Board panel will hear administrators' ideas

By BILL WINTER

The Granite City School Board conferred Tuesday night with its full staff of administrators, principals and supervisors after forming a board committee to help consolidate administrative jobs.

The newly-created Personnel Committee will make a preliminary report to the board Feb. 7 and a final report on proposed consolidations Feb. 21. Board President David Partney said after the 11:45 p.m. adjournment.

THE 90-MINUTE discussion between the board and administration took place in an executive session.

Questioned later, Partney said the board indicated it will consider information and recommendations from administrators before deciding on additional staff cuts. That had not been publicly said before.

In the regular meeting that began at 7:35 p.m., Mrs. Ruth Lahr made a motion that a personnel committee be formed and that it submit recommendations on job mergers at the next board meeting.

The proposal carried on a voice vote, with a majority favoring it and some opposed. She specified that the committee members would be herself, Pres. Partney and School Treasurer Kelly Hogan. She and Partney had conferred prior to the meeting on unspecified matters.

SUPT. B.J. DAVIS sought to learn the timing of the new committee's deliberations so that a public meeting notice could be given. Partney replied, "We'll let you know."

Mrs. Lahr told newsmen she proposed the personnel committee "because it is needed." She cited "rumors" sweeping the school district as evidence of the need. As the basic agenda was being completed at 8 p.m., Supt. Davis noted that virtually all administrators were present and said they had asked to address the board in executive session. The board agreed, and that meeting lasted until 9:30 p.m.

After a brief pause, in which most of the administrators departed, the executive session was resumed from 9:30 to 11:40 p.m. A final regular meeting took place from 11:40 to 11:45 to transact business reviewed in the executive session.

IN COMMENTS afterward, Pres. Partney said the first phase of the Personnel Committee report will be given Feb. 7 and the final recommendations Feb. 21. Those are the two regular board meeting dates next month.

He said the current plan is for the committee to meet with some administrators Jan. 23.

The president had related in a public talk Dec. 21 that the board was preparing to reduce yearly administrative costs by an amount between $200,000 and $250,000, with notices of job consolidations to be issued by late January or early February.

The deadline for dismissal notices is late March.

FOUR JOBS were combined into two administrative positions Dec. 6, effective June 30, in 4-3 board voting. When the seven-member board reorganized after voters in November had elected Mrs. Lahr, Hogan, Partney, Alan Crider and Dewey Melton, Mrs. Lahr proposed a personnel unit. She agreed to withhold that idea for a limited time to see if the Policy Committee could fulfill both roles.

The Policy Committee that was formed in November, headed by Secretary Thomas Miosky, includes Treas. Hogan and Mrs. Lahr, with Pres. Partney as alternate.

Hogan and Board Member Monroe Worthen serve on the Finance Committee, assisted by Finance Director Norman Owca, with Partney as an alternate member.

MRS. LAHR, a retired school administrator, is the board's delegate to the Citizens Advisory Council, with Worthen as alternate. She also is the delegate to the Chapter 1 Advisory Council, with Crider as alternate.

Crider serves on the Special Education Board, with Partney as alternate.

Board Member Dewey Melton is delegate to the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards and to the Coalition for Public Education. Miosky is the IASB division alternate and Crider is the Coalition alternate.

Partney represents Granite City schools on the Illinois Large District Council and Miosky is the alternate.

Davis: 8 pay talks crucial

By BILL WINTER

Granite City schools are achieving a financial turnaround in 1983-84 without additional staff cuts, Superintendent of Schools B.J. Davis told Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday.

District Nine is on target for debt reduction in 1984-85 if it can successfully conclude negotiations with its eight union groups this spring and summer, he added.

Presenting a "stockholders' report" on the school system at the request of David Schermer, program chairman, Davis said 88 percent of the school budget is related to staff salaries and benefits and seven percent involves fixed costs, leaving only five percent for textbooks, supplies and other items in which economies can be sought.

SUPERINTENDENT since 1966, he said the cost-squeezed school system last year reduced its personnel by 127 teachers, 11 administrators and supervisors, 16 custodians, 13 secretaries and 12 cafeteria workers, a total of 179. Davis joined the district in 1960 and in 1964 became administrative assistant to Supt. Russell D. Johnson, who died in 1966.

The only superintendent a generation of local students has known, Davis recalled the pyramid-shaped, uphill-and-down enrollment—soaring to 22 buildings with more than 1,100 employees and 15,000 students a decade ago, only to bog down to 12

IP weatherization donations sought

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

The Energy Assistance Foundation, which helps needy area residents weatherize their homes, is making a mass appeal for support this month from customers of the Illinois Power Company. The group is sending out a request inside electric and gas bills that asks for financial contributions so more homes can be weatherized.

The foundation was established in 1982 to help financially-distressed persons manage their utility bills by reducing their energy use. Illinois Power provided $250,000 originally, to start the program and now the power company has agreed to match

Appointment splits Venice Park Board

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

The selection of new Venice Park District commissioners Arnold Johnson has ended in a bitter parting of political allies amidst charges of backstabbing and favoritism in hiring. Johnson is the brother-in-law of the Rev. John Henry Williams, park board president. Johnson, who holds a degree in chemistry from Illinois State University, was appointed from among a field of four other candidates.

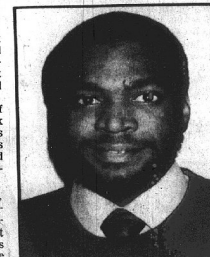

COMMISSIONER Earl Hogan, who had once been a campaign partner of Williams, now says the president should not have voted to seat his brother-in-law. Hogan asserts that too many members of the Williams family have already been connected with the park district.

Rev. Williams accuses Hogan of being opportunistic by publicly criticizing him for actions that Hogan himself approved as a park board member. Williams refers to the initial board hiring and following the reinstatement Tuesday of his stepbrother, Charles Collins, as the director of recreation, and the employment last summer of Williams' stepson.

Williams opened the board meeting Tuesday by surprising board members with his resignation as president. Fellow commissioners initially rejected, then voted to accept Williams' request, which proved short-lived.

BOARD SECRETARY Marie Nelson chaired most of the meeting when other members refused to accept the presidency.

Hogan acted first in the board appointment issue by making a motion to reappoint former commissioner Calvin Ratliff to the seat he vacated late last year to attend a job-training program in Texas. Ironically, Hogan also was backing a relative of Williams when supporting Ratliff, who is a second cousin of the park board president. The motion for Ratliff died after board members failed to give it a second.

In order to prevent a deadlock, commissioners decided to use a secret ballot to canvass their choices for the board vacancy. "All agreed whoever gets the majority of the votes, that's who gets the new commissioner's seat," Williams said.

THE INFORMAL balloting scored one vote for Ratliff—cast by Hogan—one vote for Harold Wilson, president of the Madison Branch of the NAACP, and two votes for Johnson.

Johnson attended elementary school in Venice and moved back to the area about three years ago. He is employed by a clinical laboratory in

Court declines to pick winner

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

Nine months after a Granite City aldermanic election pitted incumbent Walter Milton and challenger Woodrow Moad, both opponents still disagree on the outcome.

The two had faced each other in a race to represent the city's Sixth Ward in the general election last April. The official result was a two-vote victory margin for Moad.

THE MEN paired off again Tuesday in the Edwardsville courtroom of Madison County Associate Judge Wendell Durr. Moad was victorious in gaining a dismissal of Milton's protest of the election results. The Milton petition had apparently been filed incorrectly. He has 30 days to appeal the decision.

The judge also permitted both parties to see for themselves the spoiled and defective ballots central to the election dispute. The viewing was not intended to produce an official ruling on the ballots. County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, custodian of the ballots, watched over the proceedings with a representative from the state's attorney office.

ACCORDING to Milton, five of six defective ballots appeared to have been intended for him. He would have only needed three votes to defeat Moad. He was reluctant, however, to discuss the situation before he decides whether or not to continue his election protest.

"There is another step," Milton said. "I still have a right to contest it. This eventually could come back to the council floor to pass judgment."

According to Moad, one of the defective ballots appears to have been cast for him; one seems intended for Milton and the preference of the remaining ones cannot be determined.

MISS BOWLES, Moad and Milton all agree that most of the ballots in question are those which voters in-

Madison County zoning board conducts 4 on-site hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct on-site hearings at four locations in the Quad-City area on Monday, Jan. 23.

At 9:05 a.m. Jan. 23, the board will review the petition of Aaron C. and Betty Black, who are requesting the continuance of the placement of a mobile home at 2517 North St. This property is zoned R-4 and is located in Venice Township.

At 9:40 a.m. that day, the petition of Raymond Schaefer is being reviewed. Schaefer is requesting a special use permit and variance so that he may continue the placement of a mobile home on a lot located at the northern edge of Gabaret Island. This property is located in a flood hazard area in an Agricultural District in Venice Township.

The board will then, at 10:30 a.m., review the petition of Floyd D. Foreman Jr., which requests the rezoning of a 24-acre tract of land from an R-3 (one-family residential district) to an R-5 (multiple dwelling district). This property is located in Chouteau Township.

At 11:10 a.m., also on Jan. 23, Darrell L. and John Gail will present their request for a variation so they can continue to utilize an existing garage for their hobby of restoring antique cars, as well as to operate an auto repair garage on this site. This property is located at 2137 Collinsville Ave., Nameoki Township.

Kiwanis Club has 69th anniversary

On Jan. 21, Kiwanis International will celebrate its 69th anniversary. In recognition of this event, governors across the country have issued proclamations declaring this week to be Kiwanis Week in honor of the Kiwanians in 79 nations and geographic areas.

The average Kiwanian donates $1,000 worth of manpower per year for a total Kiwanis contribution of $300 million in service work alone. Kiwanis' two co-ed youth affiliates include Circle K International, with 12,000 Circle K's on 800 campuses and Key Club International's 108,000 Key Clubbers active in 3,500 high schools.

The organization began in August 1914 in Detroit under the direction of Allen S. Brown. He organized a group of business and professional men into a fraternal club, which soon became the first Kiwanis Club.

Enrollment still topping 9,200 level

Compared to 9,122 students in early September and 9,200 in late September, Granite City District Nine enrollment now stands at 9,201.

Traditionally, the number of pupils at the end of a school year is somewhat smaller than at the start due to dropouts during the fall and spring semesters.

The latest complete monthly report, December 1983, shows 9,250 at the beginning of the month, 49 new entries, 38 withdrawals and the 9,201 figure as of the end of December. Attendance averaged 92.98 percent.

Enrollment on Dec. 31 and the month's average daily attendance were 2,590 and 2,751 at Granite City High School, 679 and 794 at Coolidge Junior High and 666 and 618 at Grigsby Junior High.

Similar figures for elementary schools, not counting kindergarten, were a Dec. 31 enrollment of 437 and December 1983 average attendance of 414 at Frohardt, 306 and 386 at Marshall, 414 and 392 at Maryville, 526 and 500 at Mitchell, 373 and 357 at Niedringhaus, 427 and 407 at Parkview, 651 and 592 at Prather, 322 and 297 at Webster and 501 and 468 at Wilson.

The kindergarten enrollment for half-day sessions totals 92 at Frohardt, 71 at Marshall, 76 at Maryville, 79 at Mitchell, 65 at Niedringhaus, 51 at Parkview, 93 at Prather, 65 at Webster, 77 at Wilson, five at a Venice center, nine at the Harris School center, four in South Roxana, 15 in Maryville and one at a retarded center.

Among first through 12th graders, there are nine in a trainable program in Venice, three in a hearing program at East Alton, two at Collinsville, five at a Catholic children's home, two at New Hope, seven at a Harris trainable center, three at Lewis & Clark, nine in an Alton program, 11 at a retarded center, two in Bethalto and one each at Woodhaven, South Roxana, a children's home, St. Joseph and a group home.

An analysis of the 98 students dropped during the month shows 22 transferred within the school district, 17 moved within Illinois, 29 moved out of this state, 17 lacked attendance or interest, two decided to look for work, two entered a juvenile detention home, two transferred within their buildings, two went to educational therapy centers, two ran away from home, two withdrew under House Bill 2671 and one cited health factors.

NOW plans event to meet area women candidates

"The public is invited to meet women candidates so that we may 'Win With Women' in the March 20 Primary," says Beatrice Stegeman of St. Clair NOW (National Organization for Women).

East St. Louis NOW also is inviting all women candidates to the seminar at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 26, at the Southern Illinois Bank on Route 159 and Interstate 64 in Fairview Heights.

The group will be welcomed by St. Clair County Republican candidate for state's attorney, Sally Clayton of Lebanon. The welcome will be endorsed by Charlene Gill of Alton, who is running for Alan Cranston for President alternate to the Democratic National Nominating Convention.

Many local women have been asked to run as delegates to the presidential nominating conventions from the 21st congressional district served by Mel Price.

Alan Cranston for President delegates include Beatrice Stegeman of Collinsville, Dorothy Haegle of Godfrey and Katherine Tillery of Belleville. Mrs. Stegeman has taught for Belleville Area College at Granite City Center.

Presidential candidate George McGovern has asked Elizabeth Short of East St. Louis to serve as delegate.

Jesse Jackson has selected Janice Brown of Edwardsville, as well as Alton Residents Betty Powell and Karen Hauser.

John Glenn is represented by Jane O'Neill of Alton.

"Each citizen may vote for six delegates to the presidential nominating convention. But the voter may give each delegate only one vote in the March 20 primary. The delegates are listed as Cranston (Stegeman), McGovern (Short), and so on," Mrs. Stegeman said.

State Representative Wyvetter Young (D-East St. Louis) is running for re-election in the 13th Legislative District serving East St. Louis and Belleville. Brenda Harris of Belleville is seeking to become Democratic precinct committeewoman of St. Clair Township.

contributions received through the mail appeal, up to an additional $250,000.

FROM THE original money, the foundation has given grants to eight different agencies, who have agreed to do the actual construction work for the program. Locally, Coordinated Youth Services in Granite City received a $20,000 grant from the foundation.

So far, Coordinated Youth has completed work on 31 homes in the community, making various energy efficient changes to the homes, such as installing storm windows, placing caulking around window air conditioning units and adjusting or replacing doors.

The group has only spent $14,000 to date, which averages out to about $450 per home. "We try to repair the problems without making any major overhauls," said George Kaman, chief of the construction crew for Coordinated Youth Services. "If we bought brand new storm windows for all of these homes, the windows would cost about $100 apiece and you can't repair very many houses when you spend that kind of money on one window."

HAROLD E. POWELL, executive director of the Energy Assistance Program said he has been pleased with the work of Coordinated Youth in the Granite City area. "Coordinated Youth was the first group given a grant — they were the pilot program. I'm pleased with what they've accomplished to date."

What the group is trying to accomplish, according to Powell, is to give persons who qualify for the program a 25 percent reduction in their energy consumption. "This is quite a considerable reduction and the repairs will continue to work for the persons in their future energy usage," he said.

POWELL SAID that although there already is another weatherization program in Illinois that is administered by the state, many persons who need assistance don't know of that program. "Our program is set up to supplement the state's program. We try to make our guidelines a little more generous. A lot of people who need assistance have fallen through the chair rungs."

Powell said that although the foundation has income guidelines to qualify for the program, they do not follow those guidelines to the letter. "Just because a person makes $2 more than is set up in the guidelines doesn't mean they'll be denied assistance. We try to let good common sense dictate whether or not a person qualifies because there are some circumstances that call for a change in the guidelines."

Powell said the foundation has been able to get grants for contributions because they wanted to show people the work they had done before they asked for money. "We wanted to be able to talk about what we had done, not what we were going to do," he said. "We'd (the foundation) like to think our contribution will get a favorable reception from the people."

"THE PROGRAM (weatherization) has had good success in Granite City and we'd like to be able to set up this type of program in other areas outside Granite City," such as Collinsville, he said.

Persons who wish to contribute to the weatherization program may enclose a contribution when they pay their utility bills. Illinois Power Company will forward the tax-deductible contribution to the Energy Assistance Foundation with a matching amount.

Persons who wish to qualify to receive assistance from the program should contact Coordinated Youth Services at 876-2393 or 452-1390.

serted backwards into the voting machines. The results are pin prick marks rather than punch holes. Such ballots are automatically disqualified, the county clerk said. Moad said there is no way to determine who those ballots are meant for.

Milton disagrees and claims in his petition of the person casting the ballot is readily ascertainable and should be counted."

Judge Durr said Moad could have tried to block the ballot viewing, but, instead, went along with the request.

MOAD HAS been serving as an alderman since the April election. He expressed his anxiety about the prolonged election fight. At the regular Tuesday night Granite City Council session, Alderman Sharon Perjak publicly congratulated Moad on his victory, as the result of the dismissal action.

According to Attorney Lon Weaver, representing Moad, Milton should have filed his protest petition with the Granite City Council, which has the right to decide aldermanic election disputes.

City Inspector Emerald Dawes, former alderman, later said that two of his elections involved contested ballots. The disputes were settled by a three-man panel composed of aldermen with the highest seniority rankings.

Public role in school meetings

Citizens have an integral role in Granite City Board of Education meetings, the board made clear Tuesday night while revising and updating policies.

Board agendas are to conform to an order of business consisting of: Public comment, approval of minutes, treasurer report, bill list, personnel recommendations and other communications, old business, new business, reports and other communications.

Agendas are sent to board members on the Friday preceding a regular Tuesday business session, and after cases are provided early enough to give ample time for members to review the agenda before the meeting.

A portion of each board meeting will be set aside for members of the public to address the board on items related to the school district.

The time set aside for public participation at the beginning of each meeting will not exceed ten minutes, it was decided. Presentations will be limited to two minutes per speaker. Complaints related to personnel, legal matters or negotiations will be discussed in executive session.

When groups are present, they will limit the number of spokesmen to no more than two.

The board may ask questions for clarification but is not obligated to debate the subjects being presented.

If a person wishes to speak on a topic at the time that the subject is before the board, he or she may request this on a visitor form filed with the board secretary prior to the opening of the meeting.

The board may alter these rules by "a majority vote of the quorum."

Special grand jury next month

A special grand jury will be convened in Madison County to hear the status of an investigation of allegations about the office of State's Attorney Don W. Weber, Circuit Judge Horacio Calvo decided Wednesday.

Special Prosecutor Paul C. Vertichio, a Gillespie attorney chosen for the task Aug. 30, asked for the special grand jury. It is to be impaneled for Feb. 20-24.

He said he believes facts and aspects of the study should be expanded and evaluated by grand jurors, and that he does not want to interfere with the regular grand jury's duties.

Appointment of the special prosecutor by Third Circuit judges last summer was based on a request by Amiel Cueto, a Belleville attorney. Cueto is being sued by Weber and Weber's wife, Virginia Rulison-Weber, for allegedly libelous allegations circulated in a letter.

Telling both sides of a story

Employees and former employees of Reliable Nesco Steel Barrel Co. have criticized the Press-Record recently for telling only "one side of the story" on the company's success or failure.

In February, 1983, a series of major stories in the Press-Record applauded the company, workers and manager Dennis Albright for setting what was believed to be a world production record, 5,000 barrels manufactured in one day.

Subsequently, problems beset the financially-strapped company. Albright left. There were problems about which the company officials did not want to talk. Armed only with rumors from employees and former employees, the Press-Record has been unable to print fair stories about the company's problems.

Last week, a plant official told the Press-Record, "There is nothing I can say for the next 23 to 24 days." He refused further comment, accusing the reporter of being pushy.

The reporter was inquiring about reports from employees that a package was being developed for the employees to contribute $1,000 each and, with $1.1 million from a local bank, the employees would own the plant. A five-man board of employees would operate it. The company official contacted would only say, "Nothing has developed as far as that."

It is unfair for us to publish an article based only upon rumors of the employees, but it is equally unfair to our readers to leave the February 1983 story stranded, telling only of the good times and not of the subsequent bad times at Reliable Nesco.

We hope the officials can put together a financial package to save the company and bring back the approximately 30 laid-off workers whose unemployment benefits are running out. We look forward to printing a happy story of Reliable Nesco breaking its own record in the near future and we hope we don't have to be pushy to get the story.

Chance to speed court cases

If it provides a speed-up, the shift of workers' compensation cases from the Illinois Supreme Court to a new panel of appellate judges will be an improvement.

While it is reallocating its time, the high court also ought to try to accelerate the handling of cases at all court levels in the state. The old saying that "justice delayed is justice denied" remains relevant.

Another aspect is that the seven Supreme Court justices will have time to consider appeals they otherwise might have rejected. This also could be a plus, if handled right.

Injury compensation cases have a 71-year history in Illinois. The 71 years should not be confused with the amount of time it takes to decide a particular case, but delay is considerable. Progress on most Illinois court dockets, in fact, is measured in years, not months.

Compensation issues have been taking about one-fourth of the court's time. The leeway provided by this transfer, we hope, will be utilized to upgrade the quality of our court system and the justice it metes out.

In too many past instances, federal courts have cited state appellate opinions as Illinois' legal precedents; the state Supreme Court often refuses cases even if they involve important points of law, so whatever the appeals judges decide is allowed to stand.

For the past two decades, compensation rulings, capital punishment and overturning of laws have been appealed directly from the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court. The new approach calls for a special panel of appeals court judges to be created by Feb. 1 to serve as the final arbiter in most compensation cases; the high court will still consider some final appeals involving unusual points but will not have to do so automatically.

Chief Justice Howard Ryan says, "We may judge (requests to hear cases) too harshly if we have a heavy caseload. The backlog is a substantial influence when deciding whether to accept an appeal."

Yearly requests for Supreme Court action have risen from 447 a decade ago to 1,462. Of 257 opinions written in 1983 by the justices, 41 related to worker compensation cases that were first heard by Illinois Industrial Commission arbitrators and then by the full commission. Due to the complexities, this constitutes a heavy burden of work for all.

Thanks to the transfer decision, all of the court levels now can take in a breath of fresh air and resume their tasks with renewed vigor.

Honor for area's state police

Among this year's holiday season developments was the designation of Lalmutis A. Nargelenas as superintendent of the Illinois State Police. His elevation to the position effective this month is a particular honor for the local police district, Dist. 11, which he commanded from 1981 until being named assistant director of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation, Department of Law Enforcement, in February 1983.

Only 36 years old at present, Captain Nargelenas became a state trooper in 1969 and was an Army military police officer in 1970-71. He was a physical training officer at the Illinois State Police Academy, Springfield, in 1974-75, operations officer there in 1975-76, director of curriculum development starting in 1977 and director of training beginning in 1979.

Currently a doctoral degree student, he has taught law enforcement and criminal justice at three universities.

We voice best wishes to the new superintendent and to his predecessor, R.J. Miller, who is now assistant director for state and local programs at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Georgia.

Admission has been set at 25 cents a person for the Madison President's Birthday Ball, which will be held Jan. 30 in the Madison High School gymnasium. The dollar that is to be awarded to President Roosevelt for each ticket sold will be obtained by separate solicitation of business firms and individuals.

In reducing the prevailing price, the committee felt that, since President Roosevelt is helping the "forgotten man," everyone should be allowed to help the president's own project, the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for the treatment and care of infantile paralysis.

As an added feature of the ball, a large beautiful framed picture of President Roosevelt will be given as an attendance prize. Everyone buying a ticket will have a chance to win the picture, which is on display at the Reese Drug Store in Madison.

Increased burglaries and thefts in Granite City during 1908 were partially offset by a drop in robberies and another year without a murder, rape or case of manslaughter, according to the annual report made by Chief Raymond Willard.

Robberies declined from 12 in 1907 to seven last year, but burglaries jumped from 113 to 177 and cases of larceny of property under $50 in value increased to 431, as compared to 244 in 1907.

The Hyde Park Club, which grossed over $30,000 a day in illegal gambling activities until being closed by state police nine years ago, will be sold to the city of Venice for $17,000 it was announced at Friday night's council meeting. The seller is the 804 Building Corp.

Should police officers blend in with the rest of today's long and short-haired society, or should strict standards be applied?

The "long and short of it" is being debated in a number of cities, including Madison, where the "haircut war," or at least a battle of that war, was won Wednesday by the advocates of "take it off." Madison Patrolman Donald Bridick and Madison Investigator Paul Bargiel were suspended Tuesday morning by Chief of Police Frank Dutko until they complied with a new uniform and grooming regulation that went into effect Tuesday. Bargiel returned to work Wednesday and Bridick today.

Under a new state law, those voting in the March 20 primary election will have their names, addresses and party preferences turned over to county political party chairmen. Area residents were asked if they would hesitate to vote in the primary due to the new law.

Richard West, Granite City

"It wouldn't make me hesitate to vote. I don't know that I favor it, but it certainly wouldn't stop my voting."

Jeff Ross, Collinsville

"No, it wouldn't. I'd vote for who I thought was best. It wouldn't make any difference to me."

Lucille Smith, Granite City

"No, I will still vote, because I'm not ashamed of who I vote for. I think it (voting preference) should be personal, but I would still vote."

Mary Ruhl, Granite City

"It does in a way, because I vote for the man, not the party...I wouldn't want them (political party chairmen) to think I would always vote for a certain party, if I pulled the Democratic or Republican lever."

Coupon solicitor peeved woman by calling

To the Editor:

I am shocked at the rudeness shown by two people serving the Granite City community.

On Jan. 9 I received a telephone call from a lady who asked for me by my name. She was giving free coupons for $100 worth of merchandise at a local restaurant. I told her I was not interested and she wanted to know why. Before I could answer her, she hung up.

I called the restaurant on the 10th of January to complain to the manager of the rudeness of his solicitor. He stated I should call them and he didn't care what I did.

And he too hung up. I feel that both the solicitor and manager of the restaurant were arrogant and rude and this should be brought to the attention of the public.

Supports March Against Abortion Jan. 23

To the Editor:

It has been brought to our attention it is time for the annual March Against Abortion in Washington, D.C. On Jan. 23, the march will observe all sanctity of human life. It is the 110th anniversary of the Supreme Court's ruling in Roe versus Wade that a woman could have an abortion upon demand.

We as Christians believe in Jesus Christ and as fellow Americans, feel that this march should be supported. We realize that people are not fully aware of what is going on in these abortion clinics.

We would like to open peoples' eyes to what abortion really is, nothing but a way of birth control. Nothing comes out of this but the death of innocent little babies in their mothers womb.

Please, let's put America back in the hands of God and not allow the lives of the precious little babies to be taken. Please, before deciding to support abortion, check all the facts that are available to the public on abortion.

OPPOSES VENICE CHANGING ITS AMBULANCE SERVICES

To the Editor:

In a recent issue of the Press Record, an item appeared that the city of Venice planned to consider changing ambulance services. Why change when you have a very efficient service?

Recently, I called Campbell Ambulance three times. They were always on time, very courteous and kind in moving patients, courteous at the family's home and arriving at the hospital.

The procedure in regards to filling out insurance forms by the ambulance attendants was very official.

The National Postmark Collector's Club has over 1,000 members from throughout the United States and Canada. We are a non-profit group of collectors interested in preserving this area of American history through town names, postal cancels and postal history in general.

Our club also is the sole support of the Plunk Memorial Post Mark Museum in Bellevue, Ohio, which houses the world's largest-known postmark collection.

This area of my home state does not have any members in our club and I am hoping a few collectors that do not know about our organization will see this letter and write to me for further information.

Venice park board

St. Louis. He is past president of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) College Branch at Illinois State University. He has served as manager of the New Street Baptist Church youth baseball team.

"What kind of a conflict could there be?" Johnson responded Wednesday to a question concerning his relationship to the park president. "I am a taxpayer and a property owner. I have as much right as anyone (to the park). The fact that I am his brother-in-law has no relevancy."

THE NEW commissioner calls Rev. Williams a thoughtful person who stands by his own convictions and who would not be swayed by family ties when making decisions. "I hope the board does not become bogged down in petty issues. I don't think that's in its best interest," Johnson said.

He cited his past work with the summer park recreation program as the primary reason he was interested in obtaining the park seat. He also expressed confidence of transmitting the needs and attitudes of his community to the board. His biggest priority for the park is to see the stalled water slide and Lee Park improvement plan become a reality.

In at least one other instance, two relatives have served on the park board together. In 1975, the daughter-in-law of then board member Valeta Baader had been appointed as commissioner.

The recent appointment does pose a ticklish situation with the Open Meetings Act, according to Hogan. The state law defines a public meeting of a board as a majority of a quorum. That would mean two commissioners from the five-member board. Commissioner Hogan said he consulted by phone with an attorney for the state parks association and was informed that Rev. Williams and his in-law could not discuss park business when they socialize, or that would constitute a public meeting.

HOGAN SAID he finally voted to accept Johnson because there was no choice but to accept. He acknowledged initially voting to hire Collins, Williams' step-brother as park recreation director, because he did not anticipate other relatives would follow. He does not recall approving the hiring of Williams' stepson as a park employee under a Madison County Community Development grant. He was, however, aware of the move.

Williams stayed away from the meeting when his stepson's name was submitted for summer employment. The youth was sponsored by Commissioner Barbara Harrell. Three other youths also were hired for the park through the CD program. Williams does not recall a request for applications from the community for those jobs, as in the case of the park-sponsored summer work program.

In reviewing the CD job selection process, Williams said perhaps next year he would initiate an applicant search process.

WILLIAMS SAID he is puzzled by Hogan's decision to criticize the past hirings at this time. He also said Hogan's actions could be viewed as an attempt to divide black leadership in the Venice community.

As an example, he pointed out Hogan's public statements to Harold Wilson, local NAACP head, for the park board seat. If Ratliff was not appointed, Williams said, Hogan has never mentioned Wilson as an appointee at any of the park board meetings.

Rev. Williams, a Baptist minister and past president of the NAACP, said he and Wilson are friends. He said he had not been aware of Wilson's intentions to seek the park post, until after pledging his support to Johnson. Williams and Hogan now say Wilson will be given top consideration for any future park board openings.

ALTHOUGH both Williams and Hogan say they are eager now to work together on the board for the sake of the community, both have stated they will definitely not support the other in future political races.

Williams has gone so far as to offer a public apology to his voters for asking them to support Hogan in the last election. All this apparently does not shake Hogan. "If people are going to elect you, they're going to do it themselves," he commented.

Rev. Williams assumed his office as park board president Wednesday after Commissioner Harrell placed his name in nomination and got a 4-1 roll call vote. Williams was the only one to oppose the motion.

He had submitted his resignation, he said, because he was "just tired and wanted to relax." Now, he says, in the midst of the board appointment controversy, "I'm very relaxed. I'm ready to take the heat."

DRIVING AND CANNABIS CHARGES FOLLOW MISHAP

Driving without a valid driver license was charged against Garner Ted Gibson, 22, of 2920 Nameoki Drive last week in connection with a collision at E. 23rd and August streets with the rear of the car of Larry D. Smith, who had halted for a stop sign.

When he was halted by police at 25th Street and Madison Avenue to permit them to obtain more information, Gibson also was charged with possessing cannabis.

LOST PARKED AUTO

An eight-track AM-FM stereo radio valued at $100 and a black briefcase costing $30, were stolen from the auto of Sara Sanders, 2339 Maryville Road, while the vehicle was parked at the rear of the apartment complex last week.

He was released after posting a $102 cash bond to appear in court Feb. 17.

FRANK'S TAX FACTS
My older friends have asked me, "Are social security (S.S.) benefits taxable?" My answer is NO for 1983 and MAYBE for 1984. To determine their taxability in 1984, you take your adjusted gross income (in essence, your total income subject to tax) and add to it 1/2 of your social security benefits and all of your tax exempt interest income for 1983. If the total is more than $25,000 if single, $32,000 if married filing jointly or -O- if married not filing jointly. If a balance results, take 1/2 of that balance and add it to your 1983 tax. As you can see this law won't effect too many people and certainly not "grandma and grandpa" whose only income consists of social security and pension. Tier 1 railroad retirement benefits will be calculated the same way. I'll mail you with your tax returns please call...

Madison Council committee to study GC Steel expansion plan

At Tuesday night's Madison City Council meeting, Mayor Mike Sasyk appointed Aldermen William Gushieff and Thomas Gordon to a committee to meet with executives of Granite City Steel to discuss excessive noise allegedly caused by some type of work at the plant, reported by residents of Kennedy Drive. They are to report their findings at the next council meeting.

A group of about 75 Madison citizens, most from the Kennedy Drive and Elizabeth Street area, met Sunday afternoon to discuss GC Steel's proposed use of land just north of Kennedy Drive to construct a slab storage building and scarfing operation, which requires 20 ton slabs to be turned over during the work.

The residents were concerned that there already have been heavy vibrations, which might have damaged some homes, from slabs dropped on mill property nearby.

The citizens are contending that the property is zoned R-1 for residential use only and that the steel company should not be allowed to build there or expand operations onto that lot.

Several aldermen and the mayor were on hand for that meeting and the mayor pledged that the city will investigate. The citizens also will attempt to meet again with GC Steel officials.

In other business at the Tuesday night meeting, the bid that was received from Anna Eberhardt in the amount of $1,678 for a tract of real estate in Chouteau Township (along Old Alton Road) owned by the city of Madison. The next highest bid for the property was $750.

Alderman Gushieff noted that at the Jan. 3 meeting, he read a bid proposal from Granite Sheet Metal Co. of Granite City, for heating systems at both recreation centers in Madison. It was previously reported that Thomas Gordon read the reports.

The cost to install the systems totaled $20,847, and was accepted by the council members, contingent on approval by the Madison County Community Development office.

Alderman Gushieff informed the council that six veterans' names that were inadvertently omitted from the memorial plaque at the Memorial Center at Seventh and Lee streets have been permanently engraved on the existing register.

Charge Alorton man with felony theft

After allegedly seeing a man loading meat and food items into brown paper sacks in a grocery cart at 5:05 p.m. Monday, employees at National Food Store, 3100 Madison Ave., confronted and then detained Ricky A. Epps, 27, also known as Michael Johnson of Alorton, Ill., until police officers arrived.

When stopped, Epps was leaving the store through an exit door with $238 worth of food supplies, it was alleged.

Epps was arrested and was charged with felony retail theft in an informational document issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office. Additionally, a Granite City warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a earlier retail theft charge was served on him.

In a court appearance at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Epps pleaded innocent. Bond was set at $1,500 and a mittimus was issued. He was transferred later the same day to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Exemption requires seniors to be 65

In an article published on Jan. 16, 1983, concerning the senior citizen Homestead Act, the story should have emphasized that to qualify for the exemption, a person has to have reached their birthday on or before Jan. 1, 1984. The Press-Record regrets the omission.

Persons who were 64 years old or older on Jan. 1, 1984, may apply with their township assessor for a reduction of real estate values through the Homestead Exemption for 1984. However, those taxes not be collected until 1985 as tax collections always lag one year behind.

Formerly, seniors could not apply for the Homestead Exemption until they had reached their 65th birthdays.

Venice to appeal court decision on fireman pay

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

The Venice City Council has authorized City Attorney Lawrence T. Hartman to enter an appeal against a recent court decision, which appears to clear the way for First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels to collect certain monies withheld for his duties as a volunteer fireman. The decision was made by the Venice City Council on Jan. 17, 1984.

The court ruling was announced at last week's city council meeting by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, who called for a roll call vote on whether the city should appeal the decision.

Aldermen attending the meeting, besides Daniels, were Charles Haynes, Fourth Ward, George Mangiaracchio, Second Ward, and John Fleig, First Ward.

All the aldermen present, with exception of Daniels, voted to appeal the decision. Mayor Echols also casting an "aye" vote.

Aldermen Victor Valente Sr., Louis Sweeney and John Ervin were not in attendance.

Although a precise figure on the money involved could not be obtained, an estimated $5,000 is now owed to Alderman Daniels from when the issue first surfaced in March 1979, according to City Comptroller Rosanna Koehler. She offered the estimated amount in response to an inquiry from Mayor Echols.

Daniels commented that in July 1982, the Illinois legislature passed a bill stating that the two offices

(alderman or city official and volunteer fireman) were not in conflict. Daniels' comment drew a reply from Mayor Echols, who remarked, "I am aware of this and in agreement, but I don't think this has any bearing on what we're doing before that date, considering the magnitude of the amount."

"Since July 1982, the law clearly states that you are entitled to it (draw the pay). Before that, it was subject to interpretation."

"So you are saying that I do have the money coming from July 1982? Is that correct?" Daniels asked.

"This is correct," the mayor stated.

Replying to a question from Alderman Fleig concerning the law prior to July 1982, Daniels reported a circuit court judge stated, in his opinion, there were no grounds for withholding the money prior to that time (July 1982).

"Well, we have to safeguard the taxpayers' money," Mayor Echols retorted.

The question on the legality of an alderman accepting pay as a volunteer fireman arose in early 1979 after Daniels became acting mayor following a power struggle between white and black aldermen, the latter supporting the current mayor. At that time, the council votes were equally divided.

The acting mayor deadlock was finally decided in February 1979 when Daniels won in a drawing at the Madison County Courthouse by choosing the right slip of paper from a cigar box.

In April that year, Mayor Echols won the mayoral election. Daniels, who was not a candidate for mayor, was elected alderman.

From that point on, the question of paying Daniels for his time from time to time and Daniels eventually filed a suit in April 1980 in the Third Judicial Circuit Court.

Daniels has contended throughout that a precedent was set earlier when former Alderman Harry Buente was both alderman and fireman for more than 25 years and no one challenged his fireman pay.

It is the practice of the Venice Volunteer Fire Department to pay firemen for calls answered at the end of the year, near Christmas.

In December 1979, the Venice City Council decided to pay Daniels a check for $1,251 for fires answered that year. The council did agree to pay Daniels for fires he attended in early December, Jan. 19.

Since the "conflict of interest" issue began, Daniels has continued to serve as a volunteer fireman without pay. The current pay for a fireman is $9 a call, with additional money paid for weekend duty at the Venice fire station.

Seek Parkview School access improvement

No immediate solution has been devised for Parkview School access and parking problems, a Granite City School Board discussion showed.

A study will continue, in the hope of finding safer ways for special pupils and other students to reach the building from buses and autos.

A report by Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds, related that he met Dec. 15 with the Parkview PTA safety committee on proposed expansion of parking space behind the school. The committee felt that a proposed circular drive in front of the school also should be considered.

Goal of the circle proposal was to remove buses from Maryville Road and also give parents added opportunity to pick up their children when classes end each afternoon.

Landman also met with a bus company official and explained the idea of constructing a parking lot turn-around at the rear of Parkview. The official opposed this, saying buses would be blocked by parents' autos, and that without police involvement, there would be little control over traffic flow.

The bus company favors either a circular drive in front of the school or a drive completely around the building. However, a driveway circling the school would create extra hazards for pupils, Landman believes.

The existing enrollment level at Parkview causes congestion on the property and on Maryville Road, the board discussion brought out. A new ramp has been helpful but has not solved the problem.

Some special students are especially in need of convenient access to the school during severe weather. It was related. A spokesman for Parkview parents reviewed the problem at the meeting, as did Principal Agnes Fryntko, School Treasurer Kelly Dulko and Board President David Partney.

A circle drive on the front Parkview campus, including curbs, might cost $35,000 to $40,000, it was estimated. Because it would be used by heavy buses, the concrete driveway would be six inches thick.

Among the points noted was a surface water drainage problem at the rear of the school, limiting extensive use of that area.

Officials of the Granite City park district, which owns adjacent Worthen Park, have voiced willingness to cooperate in seeking a solution. Some of the parking space is shared by school employees and park patrons.

Since no one proposal appeared to be both affordable and capable of improving parking, traffic and access, no action was taken and further planning will be carried out.

Free hearing and speech tests offered Jan. 27

The Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois will hold speech and hearing screening on Friday, Jan. 27, at the society office, 736 Central Ave., Alton, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The speech screening is designed primarily for pre-schoolers who have trouble speaking normally or who do not speak at all. However, any child will be checked if the parents wishes. Also, adults who have suffered strokes or other illnesses that affect speech will be checked. The hearing testing will be done for any client above the age of 24 months. Both the screenings are free of charge.

To make an advance reservation for either the speech screening, the hearing screening, or for both, any interested person may call the Easter Seal office in Alton at 1-462-8897.

DUI CHARGE FILED AFTER CRASH WITH PARKED AUTO

Alerted last week that a north-bound auto was weaving from lane to lane, police hurried toward it but did not arrive before it had hit the rear of the parked car of Christine Ray, 2426 Madison Ave., at that address.

Ricky D. Wofford, 24, of 3325 Terrace Lane, who received injuries, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving with an expired license.

Employment survey in area

The U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct a regular survey on employment and unemployment in this area during the week of January 16 to 21, 1984, according to Marvin L. Postma, director of the Bureau's regional office in Kansas City.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the January survey will include others concerning displaced workers and occupational training. Displaced workers questions will be asked of persons 20 years of age and older who have lost or left a job involuntarily in the past five years, in an effort to determine which industries and occupations have been affected the most, and what earnings or benefits losses may have been incurred. The occupational training questions will be asked of persons 14 years of age and older who have attended any occupational training program in the past two years. Households in this area are part of the sample of 72,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The November survey indicated that of the 112 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 102.7 million are employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 8.4 percent, down from the 8.8 percent reported in October.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Cafeterias breaking even on operations

Granite City school cafeterias achieved a virtual break-even point in their operations in 1982-83 and are continuing the same kind of performance in 1983-84.

December 1983 records show an $11,399 preliminary profit, partly offset by administrative costs of $4,426 and other payroll costs of $3,325.

Another offsetting factor was $10,507 in indirect expenses, resulting in a $6,949 technical loss for the month.

Indirect expenses such as electricity and gas are taken into consideration in a state-assigned rate of 18 percent applied to labor, fringe benefits, depreciation and other costs.

Payroll costs aggregating $55,443 for the month included wages, municipal retirement, Social Security, workman's compensation and health benefits. There were three paid holidays in December.

A fourth of the $93,488 revenue was generated at Granite City High School—$23,161.

GCHS accounted for 1,782 of the 6,561 manhours of work, expended $10,882 of the $34,486 spent on supplies and consumed $1,615 of the $7,134 commodities utilized.

The Board of Education also approved an Individualized Career Plan (ICP) under which freshman students and their parents will become involved in developing individual four-year education plans.

Thomas C. Holloway, director of vocational and career education, related that the State Board of Education's Department of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education last year introduced ICP, with grants made to some districts to implement it.

Granite City schools applied for and received a grant, and during the summer and fall they adapted ICP for use in the District Nine curriculum.

The program will become a unit in the latter part of the freshman career education class after individual value testing and career studies have been covered in the course.

The student will study the entire Granite City High School curriculum and then, along with his or her parents, prepare a four-year plan. It will list all courses the student plans to take in high school.

The plan will go to the student's counselor, who will check and approve it. As the student progresses through GCHS, the plan can be revised as needed in order to remain in line with the individual's goals.

Supplemental mathematics materials were purchased last week with $3,500 in Chapter II funds for use by high-achieving junior high school pupils. Houghton Mifflin Math 7 and 8 textbooks were selected by the staff; the basic textbook will continue to be Merrill's Mathematics Essentials and Applications.

Enrollment in District Nine has reached 9,250, one below the October level, and attendance varies from 96.4 percent at Mitchell School to a district average of 94.3 percent.

Donald Gray of Eagles Aerie 1126 presented a $5,000 check to be used for special education purposes.

Pres. David Partney accepted on behalf of the school district.

The Maryville School PTA is presenting a copying machine for Maryville School.

Sharon McCreder, a former school secretary, resigned to accept employment as director of Belleville Area College's Senior Companion Program.

Betty S. Roberts, a Parkview middle intermediate (fifth grade) teacher, was granted an illness leave of absence through Feb. 8.

Knights of Columbus Council 1098 will use the Grigsby Junior High gymnasium Jan. 28 from 1 to 4 p.m. for a free throw tournament for boys and girls aged 11-14.

GCHS Boosters will hold a chili supper Feb. 18 from noon to 6 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

The annual membership meeting of the Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union is set for March 4 in the GCHS auditorium and adjacent corridors.

Rock seeks to regulate nuclear rail shipments

Charging that Illinois has become the nuclear "crossroads" and "dump ground" of the nation, Illinois Senate President Philip J. Rock has announced the introduction of legislation to regulate and license the transportation of highly radioactive materials into and through the state of Illinois.

In press conferences in Rockford, Chicago, Moline-Rock Island and Peoria, Rock said the legislation is necessary because Illinois does not provide sufficient safeguards for public health and safety surrounding the shipments of highly radioactive nuclear materials.

The legislation, as introduced, will establish a strong permit process for the carriers and shippers of nuclear materials via Illinois railroads. Illinois is scheduled to receive 200 tons of high level spent nuclear fuel from a Nebraska power company beginning this spring, Rock said the Burlington Northern Railroad from Burlington, Iowa, into Illinois, through seven Illinois cities from Monmouth to Aurora.

The spent nuclear fuel shipments are destined for G.E.'s Morris, Ill., facility, the only commercially operated storage facility in the nation for high level nuclear wastes. Rock said his legislation, to be co-sponsored by Senator Jerome J. Joyce (D-Essex), will provide greater safety and health protections for citizens and communities along the designated routes.

Rock said that when the legislation is considered by the Senate Agriculture, Conservation and Energy Committee, he hopes to expand the legislation to include nuclear materials transported by truck.

Following a special Senate hearing in August 1983 regarding planned shipments of highly radioactive spent nuclear fuel, Rock said that Illinois officials asked out-of-state utilities to postpone their Illinois shipments while the state considered stronger regulatory measures. Testimony provided at that hearing by national and state experts showed that Illinois was not adequately prepared to handle the large shipments of nuclear wastes. Since voluntary postponement of the shipments has not been successful, Rock said the Illinois General Assembly must consider strong state regulatory measures this session.

At a press conference, Rock released photographs of a rail bridge in serious disrepair on the designated route for the Nebraska rail shipments.

Rock noted that the 400 tons of high level nuclear wastes scheduled to pass through Illinois is the largest movement of nuclear materials in many years. An Illinois law, sponsored by Joyce and Rock in 1980, prohibited the importation of high level nuclear wastes. That law lost a U.S. Supreme Court appeal last summer, opening the way for the massive nuclear shipments in Illinois.

Traffic deaths continue decline

Governor James R. Thompson announced Wednesday that, for the sixth consecutive year, the number of traffic fatalities in Illinois has declined.

"Illinois is the only state in the nation with a favorable traffic safety record for this many consecutive years," the governor said. "We are proud of this record for our state. All of those involved with traffic safety and law enforcement should be commended for their efforts which have contributed heavily to fatality reduction."

Illinois Mother of the Year sought by group

The Illinois Mothers Committee, a chapter of the American Mothers, Inc., has announced the annual search for the 1984 Illinois Mother of the Year. The mother selected becomes a nominee for the honor of "National Mother of the Year for 1984."

This judging will take place at the New York Headquarters of American Mothers Inc. prior to the annual Mothers' Day observance.

Qualifications for the Illinois State Mother of the Year require that the woman be a successful mother and homemaker, as evidenced by her children in education, religious, civic, governmental or business world. She must be active in a religious body and a participant in community, state or civic activities.

Candidates must have had their marriage performed in a legally accepted ceremony, they must be the legal mother of one or more children, the youngest of which is 15 years of age.

Mothers with legally adopted children may qualify, and foster children may be included in the list of children. Candidates must also be in good health and be between the ages of 45 and 70.

Any organization wishing to sponsor a qualifying member may secure a nomination blank which contains details for submitting nominations by contacting Illinois President, Mrs. Ralph Morgan, Rural Route One, Box 22, Rossville, Ill., 60063, telephone 1-217-748-6363, or by calling Dr. Felicia D. Koch, 1821 Edison Ave., at 876-1023.

All data for the 1984 Illinois Mother of the Year nominee must be postmarked no later than Feb. 1.

County may have to repay millions to taxing agencies

By JUDY TAPLIN

Madison County could owe its taxing bodies $3 million to $5 million if plaintiffs in two related tax cases win their suits, County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus says.

The cases, filed elsewhere in Illinois, involve the interest counties have collected by investing property taxes before their distribution to taxing bodies. The counties keep the interest.

The lawsuits raise the question of whether that interest is, in effect, an old fee system earlier declared to be unconstitutional.

The suits seek to force counties to give the interest to the taxing bodies. Based on a judge's order, and anticipating that a state Supreme Court ruling will go against the counties, Madison County made hurried changes in its budget in November.

It eliminated $610,000 — the approximate amount of interest it would have to pay its taxing districts in the coming year if the ruling goes against the counties.

The $610,000 is the minimum amount Henkhaus estimates the county will receive by investing 1983 taxes received in 1984.

Last week, Henkhaus said he has learned that the counties may be required to pay back all interest received since 1976.

For Madison County, this would amount to as much as $5 million. For some counties, he said, the amount could be as much as $30 million.

Before 1970, at which time the state drafted a new constitution, county treasurers could charge the various taxing bodies a fee for collection of taxes.

In 1976, based on the new constitution, this practice was determined to be unconstitutional and was discontinued.

The current question stems from a lawsuit filed later by a library against the DuPage County treasurer over the interest collected from investing the tax collections.

That case is in the process of going to the state Supreme Court, Henkhaus said.

The high court will decide whether or not the interest kept by the counties is actually the outlawed fee in a different form.

"If it's a fee, we'll lose the case," Henkhaus said. "And if it's a fee, we'll have to go back to 1976."

Madison County, along with all other Illinois counties, became involved in the controversy last fall when a judge ordered that interest on invested property taxes be held in an escrow account.

The order stemmed from a class action suit filed by the village of Pawnee against Sangamon County.

The judge ordered all counties to stop spending interest on the tax collections until the Pawnee case is resolved.

Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith has said he thinks it is unlikely that the counties will be winners in the case.

If the counties are ordered to pay back all interest from 1976, Henkhaus is not sure what the procedure would be.

The taxing districts might reduce their levies by the amount to be received from the county, or each might receive a windfall, he said.

How Madison County, already suffering financial problems, would afford the payments is another question. Henkhaus says a special tax would be a likely consideration.

He found that ironic. "Taking from the taxpayers to pay the taxing districts."

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Students from Blair School practice their gospel singing for The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King celebration that was held there last week. Students also read poems and listened to speeches made by the civil rights leader. (Press-Record Photo by Susan Signaio-Weich)

Venice fires total $80,500 in '83

Venice volunteer firefighters fought fires at 17 dwellings and 11 industrial blazes during the 12-month period ending Dec. 31, according to a report presented to the Venice City Council last week.

Total fire loss during 1983 in the city of Venice amounted to $80,500, the aldermen were advised in a report prepared by Gary R. Wallace, secretary of the Venice Fire Department.

Actual property loss incurred in the 12-month period totaled $62,200, with a further $18,300 loss through contents destroyed in fires.

Per capita loss amounted to $23. The value of the property involved, other than railroads and industry, was listed at $134,000.

Firefighters also extinguished 24 grass and rubbish fires, 11 fires in cars and trucks and one shed or garage fire.

The department was involved in 24 rescue operations and three washdowns following traffic mishaps.

Venice firemen responded to two calls for assistance from National City Fire Department, involving rescue work, and one fire call to assist the Loveloy Fire Department.

An average of nine trained volunteers responded to each call out, it was noted. Only two false fire calls were logged during the 12 months.

CAR SKIDS IN SNOW ONTO SIDEWALK; SIX CHARGES

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Statistics indicate that nearly half of the 2,000 traffic fatalities in Illinois in a given year are alcohol-related. There has been a great deal of pressure put on legislators in recent years to enact legislation to get drunk drivers off the highways. Many have argued that individuals arrested for driving under the influence who are repeatedly given court supervision which allows them to continue driving. Others have noted that even when individual's license is revoked for conviction of a DUI, many offenders continue to drive without a license. Effective January 1, 1984, new legislation has been enacted which has attempted to address these problems.

In the past, a person charged with Driving Under the Influence (DUI) has often been given court supervision, which did not result in the loss of his license. When there was a disposition of court supervision, this did not appear on the individual's driving record. This meant that a person was a previous offender because the court supervision was not on file with the Secretary of State. Therefore, a driver often was granted court supervision time and again. Under the new legislation effective January 1, 1984, if a person has previously been convicted or assigned supervision for driving under the influence, he may not receive supervision again, unless the date of the previous conviction or assignment of supervision was more than five years ago. In line with this legislation, the new law also provides that public officials must now forward to the Secretary of State a report of any disposition of court supervision for driving under the influence.

As previously noted, another problem which often arose was that a person who had his license suspended or revoked for a DUI would continue driving even after the loss of his license. Frequently, since a person had a family to support, he would elect to continue driving, even without an operator's permit.

Under the new legislation, if a person is convicted of driving after his license has been suspended or revoked, and the reason for the suspension or revocation was due to a conviction of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs, then the person convicted must serve a minimum term of imprisonment of seven consecutive days or thirty days of community service. Under the old law, judges had the discretion as to whether or not a person would be imprisoned for driving without a license subsequent to a DUI. Under the new legislation, the sentences described above are mandatory.

Trojans come back to down Red Devils, 69-53

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

LITCHFIELD — Everything started out so well for Clinton Harris and his Venice Red Devils that it appeared the Red Devils would blow the Madison Trojans off the court in the semifinals of the Litchfield Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Perhaps things started off too well. Venice, which jumped to a 19-4 lead in the first quarter, soon found disaster in nearly every move they made. By the time it was all over, Madison defeated Venice 69-53 and won the right to advance to the championship game.

Madison will play either Taylorville or Litchfield in the championship game Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Venice will meet the loser of the other semifinal game for the third place Friday at 8:15 p.m. Taylorville plays Litchfield tonight at 10:15.

"We were playing super ball the first quarter, and then we lost the momentum and nothing went our way," Harris said.

Indeed, the Red Devils picked up where they left off Monday in their 76-67 win over Mt. Zion. Senior guard Eddie Salmond scored nine points in the first four minutes of the game to spark Venice to a 19-4 lead. It only took Venice one play to lose the momentum.

Shortly after Madison's Joe Crowder scored to cut Venice's margin to 11, the Trojans' guard Young stole the ball from Salmond, and the officials called a foul with 3:11 left in the quarter. However, Venice center Darren Wise got into a shoving match with one of the Trojans, and confusion reigned for nearly five minutes.

Referees Fred Floreth and David Coles gave Wise and technical foul and Crowder a personal foul during the steal, but not before Madison Coach Larry Graham and Harris made their points about the calls.

"The officials were really mixed up about the calls, and we thought they had made the wrong call," Graham said. "I thought the referees were going to give Wise a flagrant technical foul, but they only gave him a technical foul and they gave Crowder, who was already down court, who, a personal foul, and we didn't like that."

Harris' account of the incident differed somewhat from Graham's.

"It looked like one of Madison's players started the shoving, but it was our player that got caught. The time they spent arguing the call got Madison's players going and stopped our momentum," Harris said.

Salmond missed the free throw given for Crowder's foul, but Young made the technical foul shot. Madison, which retained possession because of the technical, scored 20 the third quarter. White, Venice's second leading scorer, suffered a concussion to the head when he fell and hit the wall while going for a rebound. White, who was momentarily unconscious, was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Litchfield.

Fortunately for the Red Devils, Harris said White's injury was

"You've got to be pleased when a team can bounce back like we did. Our kids, especially Banks and a couple of others, played excellent ball. Our outside defense was excellent."

Larry Graham
Madison basketball coach seconds later on Reggie Banks' lay-up. From there, it was downhill for Venice.

"The players didn't think the officials made the right call, and that got them very upset. They thought after that call it was going to be tough the rest of the way, so they started bearing down and playing good ball," Graham said.

Madison trailed 23-15 by the end of the quarter and was on its way to victory. The Trojans scored the first six points of the second quarter, and two baskets by DeLoyd Williams tied the game at 21-21.

Although Venice's Charles Milton added a pair of baskets compared to Victor Valentine one to keep Venice ahead momentarily, Madison scored the next seven points. Five of those by Banks, and went ahead 30-25. By halftime, Madison led 36-28.

While Madison's offense scored, the Trojans defense did something most teams could only dream of — stopping Salmond's deadly outside shooting. After burying Madison the first quarter, Salmond was held scoreless in the second period. In fact, Salmond scored only six points the rest of the game.

Meanwhile, Venice point guard Larry McGhee, who scored 38 points in his last two games, picked up his third foul early in the second quarter and sat out most of the quarter. McGhee committed his fourth foul with 4:15 left in the third quarter and was ineffective until the fourth quarter.

However, the biggest blow to the Red Devils was forward Phillip White's injury in the first minute of minor and he would probably be ready for Friday's third-place game. However, the injury concerned many of the Trojans, who asked Graham about White's condition during their postgame talk.

"Our players were very concerned about White because they know him pretty well and are friends with him," Graham said.

The cumulative effect of the Trojans' defense, the fouls and the injury was too much for Venice to handle. Madison roared to a 57-40 lead at the end of the third quarter and cruised from there into the title game.

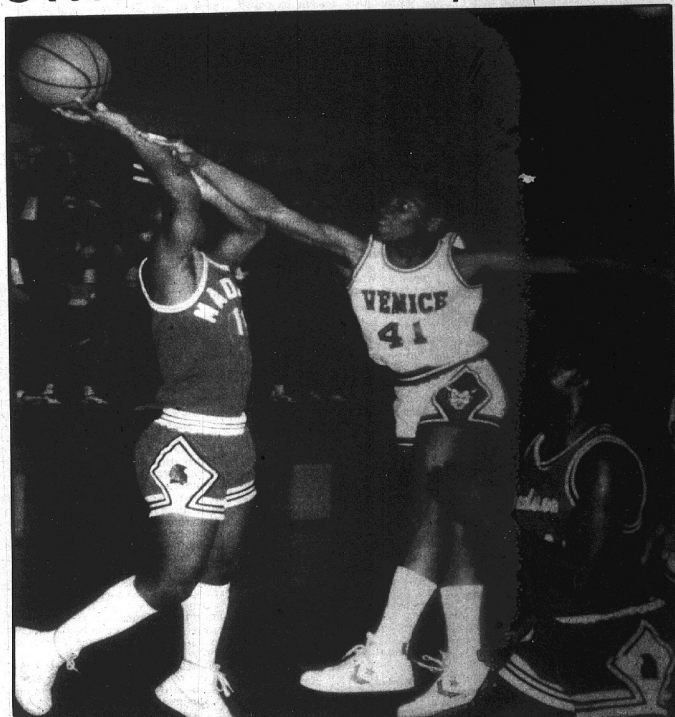

"You've got to be pleased when a team can bounce back like we did. Our kids, especially Banks and a couple of others played excellent ball. Our outside defense was excellent," Graham said.

Madison were able to screen the Red Devils away from the basket and outboarded the Red Devils 42-25.

The Trojans, now 12-2 for the season, were led by Banks' 22 points, while Williams scored 16 points and James Bennett added 14 points. Salmond led Venice with 15 points, and McGhee added 13 more for the Red Devils, 11-3 this season.

MADISON (69): V. Valentine 4-0-8, M. Young 2-1-5, Banks 10-2-22, Williams 6-4-5, 16, Bennett 6-2-12, Salmond 2-0-0, FG 30, FT 9-18, PF 19.

VENICE (53): Salmond 7-1-2-15, White 2-3-7, McGhee 6-1-2-13, Wise 2-0-4, Jackson 1-3-4-5, Milton 4-1-3-9, Helms 0-0-0, FG 22, FT 9-15, PF 17.

FOUL. While trying to steal the ball away from Madison's Anthony Newson (left), Venice's Ricky King grabs Newson's arm for a foul. Venice suffered from foul trouble and an injury to forward Phillip White and lost to Madison 69-53 in the semifinals of the Litchfield Invitational Basketball Tournament Wednesday. Madison advances to the championship game Saturday while Venice plays in the third place game Friday.

At Hillsboro

Warriors hope to topple Hiltoppers Friday

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
of the Press-Record

HILLSBORO — When a basketball team has a 4-9 record, it's better off not taking any of its opponents lightly, regardless of their record.

That's one lesson Granite City High School basketball Coach Don Deterding has been teaching his team this week as it prepares to meet the Hillsboro Hiltoppers Friday night.

The Warriors, that 6-9 team, will travel to Hillsboro to meet the 3-10 Hiltoppers. For ammunition in his argument, all Deterding needs to do is remind his squad of it's game against the Collinsville Kahoks on Jan. 6. Going into that game, the Warriors had the better record, 4-8 as compared to Collinsville's 2-7, but the Kahoks exploded for 24 points in the third quarter, leaving behind the Warriors and their ninth loss of the season.

The Warriors are a "maturing team," as Deterding referred to his cage squad — not quite there, but well on the way.

Carefully, and with just a note of optimism in his voice, the Warrior coach mentioned that his team has won six of its last eight games, losing only to Collinsville and Mater Dei.

"We're getting there, but we've got a long way to go before we become a consistent ball team," Deterding said. "Even within the same game, we look like two different ball clubs, consistent and then inconsistent."

Deterding mentioned the last game, against Roxana, when the Warriors almost lost an 18-point lead six times.

"We're maturing. It's just that some team mature faster than others," he said.

Deterding called Friday's contest "with the Hiltoppers" a very important game for his team. Important, for the obvious — because a win would bring his team to within two games of 500 after a disastrous start — but also because it's another step towards maturity. Deterding explained.

"Usually, midway through the season, I like to give the team a break, a day off. Monday was that day," Deterding said. "Tuesday, when they came back, the intensity was not there. They're still not mentally mature enough to prepare for a game. They're not mentally ready. But they have to be, because we're not good enough to whip the pants off anybody."

For example, the Warrior coach recalled the last Cahokia game — perhaps their biggest win of the season — the game the Warriors defeated the Cahoks 77-70.

"As of yet, we have never gained the momentum after we've lost it. Against Cahokia, they made a run at us and we maintained our composure to win, but we never regained our momentum."

Still, the Warriors are an emerging team. An emerging team with everything it needs to be a good team.

Jeff Gray, half of the Granite City's Gray and Gray guard duo, is the highest point gainer in the Gateway Area Conference thus far. Gray has 302 points this season, 100 points more than anyone else in the conference. He ranks second behind Althoff's Bill Meyer in average points per game with 20.

Scott Cant, the Warriors' big man inside, is averaging more than 11 points per game and is the eighth leading scorer in the GEC. Cant is also the third leading rebounder in the GEC with 98, more than six per game.

After a slow start, warrior forward Kurt Hyla is averaging eight points per game. He's also doing a job for the Warrior at the boards, averaging almost five rebounds per game.

Art Williams, the other Warrior forward is a stable — an integral cog in the improving machine. Not flashy, but without him, the Warriors would not be the same.

Joe Gray, the latter half of the Granite City guard duo, is the Warrior field general. The guy responsible for getting the ball down the court so the other guys can do their thing.

Put them all together, and you have what Hillsboro Hiltopper Coach Harland Scheibel calls a "sound team."

"We know Granite City's going to be tough. I also know what kind of record they have in their last nine games," Scheibel said. "Put that together and put Don Deterding in charge and I know we've got our hands full."

Admittedly, there's a kind of mutual respect between Deterding and Scheibel. They're both Collinsville High School grads — Deterding circa 1952 and Scheibel circa 1956 — and products of the Vergil Fleischer School of Basketball, which should add a different twist to Friday's matchup.

"It should be interesting," Deterding said of Friday's matchup. "I expect to see a lot of Collinsville-type basketball."

Although their styles are similar, the Warrior coach called Scheibel "more of a traditionalist" of the Collinsville style. Deterding said, although he utilizes the much of the same style of basketball, his is a modified version. Regardless of modifications, both teams will use the 1-2-2 press, the hallmark of Collinsville basketball.

If the Warriors are to be successful against the Hiltoppers, they will have to stop two key people — 6-foot 5-inch center Hugh Satterlee and 5-foot 6-inch point guard Brian Patton.

Scheibel downplayed Satterlee's part on the Hiltopper squad, but the Warriors shouldn't take him lightly.

Patton is the Hiltopper gun. Although he's averaging just 13 points per game, he's the key to Hillsboro's outside game. Satterlee's the inside angle while Patton's the outside. Both are returning lettermen.

Besides those two, the Hiltoppers are struggling. In all, Hillsboro has used 13 different athletes in different starting lineups and configurations.

Two Bouts Slated Friday

MHC boxers gain three victories

The Mexican Honorary Commission's Boxing Club split four bouts at two different locations last Saturday night and then won one of three Tuesday at the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds in Belleville.

"We boxed well in St. Louis last Saturday, but Tuesday, I think we could've done better," said Merce Mendoza, MHC coach. "We could've just as easily been 3-1 instead of 1-3 over there."

Last Saturday, Jan. 14, at the ABC Boxing Club's show in St. Louis, Mando Martinez, a newcomer to MHC, soundly defeated Joe Wolf of the ABC Boxing Club. It was Martinez's second victory in as many fights.

Martinez is a 75-pound subovice.

MHC's other entrant, Steve Gancheff, a 119-pound novice class boxer, lost a split decision to Dan Bostie of the Wellston Boxing Club. After getting behind in the first two rounds, Gancheff excelled in the third round, tagging Bostie for a standing eight count. Bostie's domination, however, in the early rounds provided enough points to earn him the victory.

Meanwhile, Darrin Hahs and Terry Davis had their hands full at the South Side Boxing Club.

Hahs, a 60-pound subovice boxer, won a decision over Eric Wisenheit of the host club. It was Hahs' fourth consecutive win.

Davis, however, a 90-pound subovice boxer, was not as lucky, losing to Scott McClean of South Side.

Tuesday in Belleville things started off well for MHC and then went down hill from there.

Larry Jordan, a 95-pound subovice for MHC, picked up his first subwin by decisioning Tom Whitaker of Belleville.

MHC's luck turned downward after Jordan's victory as Steve Gancheff lost a close decision to Levele Fingers of the 12th and Park Streets Boxing Club of St. Louis.

Starting at one forward for Hillsboro will be Art Lynch, a 5-foot 10-inch junior averaging about 10 points per game.

At the other forward position will be Jesse Goldsmith, a 6-foot 2-inch senior. He's averaging fewer points per game than Lynch.

At the other guard's position, teaming with Patton, the Hiltoppers will start either Chuck Leitz, a 5-foot 9-inch senior or Todd Leitzsch, a 5-foot 8-inch sophomore. Regardless of which one starts, the Warriors will see both in the fight.

It's no secret, Hillsboro is rebuilding this year. Last year, the Toppers finished the season 29-7, and a loss to Madison midway through the season was reversed because of an ineligible player on the Trojan squad.

Hillsboro ended last season 21-6. "We can't take them lightly," Deterding said.

MHC's Earl Collier a 130-pound novice boxer lost his matchup with Tim Jones of the North County Boxing Club to continue MHC's slide.

"Earl's still doing a few things wrong," Mendoza said. "But when he gets those things worked out, he'll win some matches."

In MHC's final matchup, Chip Hagnauer dropped a 147-pound novice match to Jim Kunkle of the Belleville Boxing Club. Both fought well, Mendoza said. But it was Kunkle's aggressiveness which won him the fight.

MHC boxers will take to the ring again this WHAT NIGHT Friday night at the Sportsman's 21 Club in Riverview Gardens. Carded Friday are Darryl Hahs, a 70-pound subovice and brother of Darrin, and Gancheff.

The 21 Sportsman's Club is in the Riverview Shopping Plaza at the intersection of Bellefontaine Neighbors Road and Riverview Gardens. Action begins at 6 p.m.

On Wednesday Experienced Madison turns back St. Paul

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

MADISON — If the St. Paul High School girls' basketball team didn't know the value of "court time" coming into Wednesday night's game with Madison, it certainly learned it by the game's end.

The Trojanettes lambasted the Vikings 63-32 in a non-conference game at Madison. The victory improves Madison's record to 9-0 while the Highland girls fell to 0-3. Which brings up the topic of court time.

Madison figured to be a powerhouse in the area and the state for that matter. An almost all senior starting lineup, the 1983-84 Trojanettes are perhaps the best they've ever been. The fact that they're rated fifth in a Class A statewide poll attests to that.

But the reason for Madison's success has been court time, the actual time they've spent on the hardwood playing, practicing, learning each others moves. For the most part, the nucleus of the Trojanette squad has been playing together for four years. Include summer "fun sessions" and that makes seven seasons thus far. As if that isn't enough, include nine games this season to polish their act and they are really tough.

In contrast, St. Paul has played just three games this year, little time to put together a sting of offense and a stymieing defense.

That's court time. "Court time. That's the whole thing," said Carol Cole, Madison girls' coach. "You can practice all you want. But when you get on the court in a game, against the clock, the tension's not the same. Nothing's the same."

The Trojanettes proved Coles point to the tee Wednesday night. They jumped out to a 12-4 lead in the first three minutes of the opening quarter and then never looked back.

Madison used every weapon in its arsenal, a sort of flex of might. Regina Banks' inside game was again lethal, good for 13 points.

Stephanie Walker aided Banks' efforts inside game by pouring in 11 points of her own.

Kim Stanley and Angie Shipp, Madison's two pistols from the perimeter, added the outside dimension to the Trojanette game. And Angelette Dandridge was perfect, again. Two field goals, four of four attempts from the charity stripe for eight points. She hits field goals, free throws, everything without so much as a word, a smile. It's business.

As if they weren't awesome enough, Coach Cole sweetens things a little more by exercising a smothering 1-3-2 full court trap press which troubled the Vikings all night.

Three minutes into the second quarter, St. Paul showed signs of weakening under the press. The Vikings were called for a 10-second violation as the press prevented them from reaching center court.

Leading by just 12 at that point, 25-13, Madison began to break the game wide open. To make matters worse, with 51 seconds remaining in the half, Sue Landmann, the key to St. Paul's offense exited the game with a bruised knee. She was carried off the floor and never returned. With her exit any hope of a Viking comeback flew out the window.

"I knew when Sue went down our chances weren't good," said Pat Almond, the Vikings' first-year coach. "To be honest, we didn't have much of a chance of beating them anyway. They're so good. But when Sue left they were almost nil."

Almond couldn't have been more right.

Madison improved upon its 17-point halftime lead and by the end of the third quarter led by 24, 50-26.

Things only got worse for Highland in the fourth quarter. Trojanette reserves even proved worthy of the call as they, too, outscored the Vikings 13-6.

"The fact that we've had so few games this year compared to Madison definitely did play a factor in tonight's game," Coach Almond said. "It wasn't the total difference but if we had more than three games coming in here, I'm sure we would have played them a little better."

Madison is off until Monday when it hosts O'Fallon Tech, a St. Louis Public League powerhouse. In preparation for Monday's contest, which begins at 4:30 p.m., the Trojanettes are travelling to St. Louis this evening to scout O'Fallon Tech as it takes on Beaumont High of St. Louis.

Tentatively Feb. 1 Renaissance to open new facility

The Renaissance Fitness Center, located at 20 Crossroads Plaza, will be closing its doors later this month in preparation for its reopening at 3901 Stearns Ave., formerly the Christian Community Center Racquet Club.

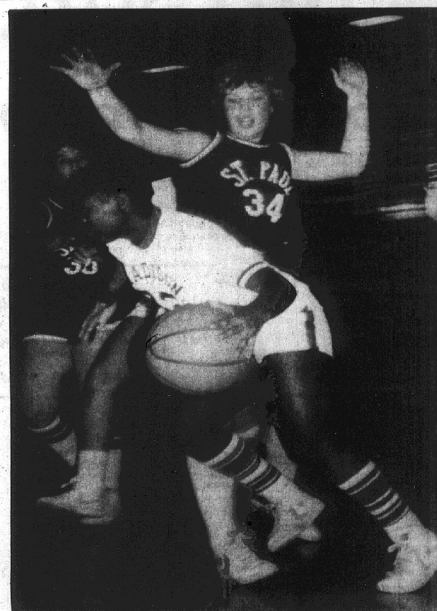

Renaissance Fitness owner, Danny Cox said Friday that he and his partner, Ed Trober, purchased the building Jan. 4 and expect to reopen the facility, formerly the Spaulding Racquetball Club, early next month. A tentative date for the reopening has been set for Feb. 1. The move would close the Renaissance facility at Crossroads.

For the reason for the move, Cox said, is to provide Granite Cityans with a "one-stop" place to exercise.

"Several people I know come to our club here for the Nautilus and then went out there to play racquetball," Cox said. "I don't blame them. Sometimes I feel like playing racquetball and other times I feel like working out on the Nautilus. Beginning next month, Granite Cityans are going to be able to do both at the same place."

"Our goal is to create a facility for one-stop fitness," Cox said. "A town the size of Granite City should have a place where people can go and play racquetball, workout with the Nautilus, do aerobics or whatever."

Admittedly, Cox said, the Renaissance Center at Crossroads has almost reached its limitation. Ac-ording to Cox, the new location will increase the size of the business nearly four fold. Currently, Renaissance has 4,500 square feet at the Crossroad facility. At the new location the estimated square footage of the facility is 17,500.

In addition to the obvious inclusion of racquetball to the Renaissance facility, the new club will offer walleyball, aerobics, sunbathing beds, massages by a certified masseur and masseuse, dry heat saunas, whirlpools, and refurbished locker room facilities.

In addition to the actual purchase of the building, Cox is pumping an additional $50,000 into the facility in the form of renovations and refurbishing.

Among the improvements will be new carpeting throughout the facility, redwood decks around both the women's and men's whirlpool areas, redwood dry heat saunas, enlarged workout areas by removing unnecessary, non-supporting walls, new lighting in many areas, new office areas, and refurbished locker and dressing areas.

"The theme of the club, naturally, will be total health," Cox said. To assist that health theme, much of the club will be accented with a horticultural setting.

Due to the legalities of the change in ownership in the facility Cox declined to discuss membership fees. But, he said, fees will be comparable to those of area clubs offering similar programs.

To members of the club occupying the building prior to the Renaissance purchase, Cox had the following response. "I realize that the purchase of the building creates many questions in the minds of members of the Community Christian Center. Renaissance has received absolutely no compensation for the current membership of those members, but we will be accepting all members and anticipate a fair and smooth transition into the Renaissance system," Cox said.

"We intend to have a rate that Granite Cityans can afford. Sure, we're renovating this place but it's a business investment. When people come in and see the our locker rooms and facilities they'll want to join. We intend to stay here," Cox said.

Because the facility will offer many different health and exercise facilities, Cox said the fees may be divided into packages. For example, persons may purchase a Nautilus membership only. For more they may purchase a Nautilus membership and a racquetball membership as well.

Cox said memberships may also be purchased in single, couple or family memberships. But, he emphasized, the specifics have not been worked out.

The tax man cometh...

Time to begin preparing for April 15

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK

Extensive Advice
Even though April 15 — the deadline for submitting income tax returns and payments — is some time away, now is the time to start thinking about preparing your 1983 tax return.

Start now with small tasks so that by the time you must file your return, you'll have much of the work done and can avoid last-minute rushing around.

For example, you can start gathering proof of expenditures for deductions you plan to take on your tax form. Tax forms are available at local banks and post offices.

Once you start pulling receipts from all the various places you've stashed them during the past year, spend some time grouping them into specific categories — business expenses, moving expenses, credit for energy improvements, and more.

These kinds of tasks can be done anytime you have a few minutes. You may want to designate a shelf, counter or table for such materials so that you can work at sorting them during odd moments over the next few weeks.

Then, once you have organized the materials readily at hand, you can study your return to see if there are other deductions you can take and go to work on documenting your eligibility for taking them. Such deductions include the interest you may have paid on loans or credit cards, sales tax if you made a number of major purchases and paid more than the amount allowed by a standard deduction and some child care expenses.

Search now for missing information you'll need to file your return, such as misplaced receipts and other documentation of which you may need to obtain copies.

Starting now will also give you a chance to check through your canceled checks for expenses you may have forgotten. By doing it now, you won't be under last-minute deadlines and pressures in April.

If you've been careful in collecting documents for your return during the year, you shouldn't have problems preparing it.

However, if your vows to file everything as you got it fizzled out about June, as many people's do, it's even more important to start early.

Ideas sought on school quality

Members of the Illinois Commission on the Improvement of Elementary and Secondary Education are urging citizens to voice suggestions on ways to improve the quality of education programs offered to students.

The commission is continuing to conduct statewide hearings, which started in October, to seek public input on the status of education in Illinois and recommendations for program improvement.

The hearings in 1984 began Wednesday, Jan. 18, in Moline.

Last year, commission members received an array of presentations on problems confronting education. Information received on some topics was often conflicting.

Topic discussions included current state requirements, local standard-setting, quality and competency of staff, curriculum review, adequate time to address all areas as required or technology in the school and work place.

In seeking further public input, commission members have stressed a need to receive specific recommendations from the general public, teachers and students on how to resolve problems.

The commission is pleased with the amount of testimony received so far from school administrators and representatives of educational groups.

It will focus on the following themes:

—How adequate are the state's expectations for instructional standards and pupil performance at all ages?

—How should time in school be specified to assure effective instruction and meet expectations?
How can schools recruit, educate, retain and reward more good teachers and educational administrators?

How can it be assured that schools are adequately preparing youth for higher education and the public and private employment sector?

Co-chaired by Sen. Arthur L. Bernman and Rep. Richard T. Muley, the 28-member commission is required to report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly by Jan. 9, 1985.

Persons interested in presenting testimony at commission meetings may contact Gail Lieberman, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield, Ill., 62777 (telephone 217-782-0942).

to compile everything you'll need. Your earning statements should arrive from your employer by the end of January. Statements on how much interest you've earned from deposits should start arriving from banks, credit unions and other financial institutions later this month, too, as should notices from credit card companies listing how much interest you've paid during the past year.

You'll probably be especially interested in preparing your tax return early if you're entitled to a refund, because the sooner you mail your form, the sooner you'll receive your refund check.

But even if you don't plan to send in your tax form for some time, you'll save yourself a lot of headaches by starting to get your records and documents organized. Then, when you get to the point of doing serious calculations, that's all you'll have to worry about... and usually that's enough!

Sweet Adelines seeks members

Area women who like music and enjoy singing are invited to attend rehearsals in January and February of the Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

The chorus, 1983 regional champion, is rehearsing to entertain at the 1984 competition March 31 in Peoria, Ill.

The chorus is looking for new members who sing first or second soprano or first or second alto. No formal musical training is necessary.

Nov. 6 to 10, the chorus will represent the area in international competition in Las Vegas, Nev.

Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Son-Life Fellowship in Collinsville.

For more information, interested women may call 931-1409 or contact Edith Headrick, Betty Goldschick, Betty Morris, Linda Watson, Pat Farrington, Jody Little, Billie Vance, Ethel McCann or Kathy Schaefer.

3 John 1:11... "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

There is one characteristic that we should try to develop as Christians and that is leadership. It seems we follow too easily, and too quickly. We can, before we are aware of it, become involved in non-Christian activities, simply because we are prone to follow.

We must always pray and ask God for direction in our lives. The steps of a righteous man are ordered by God. We must strive to walk HIS WAY, which incidentally is the straight and narrow way.

Let us follow Christ and be leaders of men for his sake. And as we pray to be led in paths of righteousness, we will be showing the way for those who look to us for leadership.

Say, "I will be a leader for Jesus." Today.

GIRL SCOUTS

Eagle Scout Scott Wilson to attend state program

Eagle Scout Scott Wilson of Troop 96, sponsored by the Maryville School P.T.A., has been selected to represent the Cahokia Mound Council at the state of Illinois Eagle Scout Citizenship Program to be held in Springfield during Boy Scout Week, beginning on Sunday, Feb. 5.

Each year 32 Eagle Scouts, at least one from every council with territory in the state, participate in this event. This three-day program gives these young men a close look at state government and assists them in better understanding how state government works.

The Eagle Scouts conduct election campaigns, electing from their own group a governor and each of the other elected state officials. The scout governor then appoints the remaining Eagle Scouts to the directorships of the various departments. On Monday evening the group will hear from State Representative Jeffrey D. Mays, who will tell the boys about the function of the legislative branch of the state government.

Several tours will be conducted, but the highlight of the program is the Governor's Luncheon. At noon on Tuesday, each Eagle Scout will be individually photographed with the governor. He will then join his respective elected or appointed state official for lunch in the Grand Ballroom of the Governor's Mansion where they will be greeted by both Governor and Mrs. Thompson. Following a talk by Gov. Thompson, the Eagle Scout governor will give the formal report of scouting activities during 1983. The luncheon will conclude with the swearing in ceremony of all Eagle Scout officials by Jim Edgar, Secretary of State.

After the luncheon, the scouts will lead with their respective officials to visit the office to which each has been elected to participate in the actual function of that office for the remainder of the day.

The entire program is under the direction of Justice Richard H. Mills, Appellate Court Judge.

Scholarship listing being compiled

A joint effort is being made by the St. Louis Public Library and the Educational Opportunity Centers of the Metropolitan St. Louis area to compile a listing of financial aids available to St. Louisans for higher education.

"Many organizations on both sides of the river sponsor educational scholarships, prizes, awards or loan funds for outstanding or deserving students," says Parkie Peck of the Library's Adult Education Department, "but frequently information on local sources does not reach those students who are most deserving of financial assistance."

The library and Educational Opportunity Centers are trying to contact businesses, unions, professional organizations, social clubs and other groups offering educational assistance, even though the awards may be limited and carry restrictions. The completed survey is expected to be published early in March and will be made available to high school, college and counselors who will provide specific information only to individuals who may qualify for the financial aid.

Survey forms may be obtained by group scholarship chairmen by contacting Parkie Peck, St. Louis Public Library, 1-314-241-2288, extension 359 or Charity Sargent, Educational Opportunity Centers, 1-314-991-2700.

A project of the Higher Education Center of St. Louis, Educational Opportunity Centers provides free counseling and information on education after high school to unemployed and low-income adults. The centers have aided more than 35,000 people and more than 11,500 of these have gone on to college, university or proprietary school. Funding is provided by a grant from the U.S. Department of education and contributed services of area colleges, universities and libraries.

A "player draft" completed the committee (team) selection by the session in organizing for the coming year, reported Bob Stevens, the newly elected clerk of the governing body of the congregation. He said that Larry Hantney has assumed the leadership of the Pastoral Care and Membership team; Mrs. Ray (Judy) Hankins, Christian Education and Youth; Mr. Leon (Beverly) Scroggins, Worship and Sacraments; Fred Barr, Evangelism and Outreach; William McMurry, Buildings and Grounds; Mrs. Dallas (Mary) Dame, Missions and Interpretation; Larry Melvin, Stew, Phipps and Finance; and Mrs. William (Winona) Corzilius, Social Concerns and Community. The pastor is the moderator of the group. The organization of the board of Deacons was also completed last week when Mrs. Harold (Joyce) Toussaint was elected moderator of that group. Albert Spurr was chosen as the vice moderator and Mrs. William (Olga) McMurry was named secretary with Mrs. Lester (Ruby) Rine assuming the office of treasurer of the Deacons.

The Deacons then outlined the responsibilities for the coming year with assignments being made. The Deacons are responsible for all church fellowship events, calling on the sick, preparing for communion service, sending birthday and get-well cards, serving after-funeral dinners, other needed functions for a caring congregation. They also work with the congregation's Crisis Center, the Bloodmobile drive, and the annual all-church picnic, and will be serving the Easter Breakfast as well.

"We invite those looking for a church home in our community to share in the fellowship of the congregation," offered the Rev. Pierson. "Our Sunday School and Adult Coffee Hour Bible Study begins Sundays at 9:30 a.m. followed by the 10:45 a.m. worship service," he

Missionary to North Africa to speak here

The Rev. Paul Parks, Assemblies of God missionary to North Africa, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. service at the New Life Assembly, 1909 State St., on Sunday, Jan. 22, the host minister, the Rev. Daniel Moore announced.

The Arab world is the last frontier of Christian missions, and is generally considered closed to the Christian message, Rev. Parks said. However, the Christian news is being delivered in that area now, Rev.

Parks added. During their next 4-year term of missionary service, Rev. Parks and his wife, Iris, plan to work with the new Mediterranean Advanced School of Theology (MAST), a school for the training of church leaders in the Middle East.

The couple has been involved in evangelizing Moslems in North Africa and they primarily used the ICI program in sharing the Christian message. ICI, or International Correspondence Institute, is an accredited, home-study Bible school sponsored by the Assemblies of God Division of Foreign Missions for the purpose of evangelizing, teaching, and training people in the word of God by extension methods. The Parks also worked in a Christian bookstore, the Good News Center.

Rev. Parks received a B.A. degree from Central Bible College and an M.A. degree from the Assemblies of God graduate school, both in Springfield, Mo.

Prior to missionary appointment, the couple worked with Team Challenge in Chicago, and pastored a church in Withe, Wis.

During this special missions service, Rev. Parks will share his future plans for ministry in North Africa. Special music and a display of literature used in North African evangelism will be provided, the Rev. Moore added.

Bible study sessions at Suburban Baptist

The January Bible Study session at Suburban Baptist Church, 2306 St. Clair Ave., will commence on Sunday, Jan. 22, and continue through Wednesday, featuring the Rev. Kenneth Parks, a former interim pastor at the church and semi-retired minister.

He has selected 1st Corinthians as his subject and will teach the adult members of the congregation at both the 9:30 and 10:40 a.m. services Sunday. The topic will be continued at the 6 p.m. service that will conclude at 8 p.m. Sunday, the Rev. Bill Simcosky, host pastor, explained. On Monday and Tuesday the study will be conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Wednesday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

A special Children's Bible Study is planned for Jan. 23 and 24 for those in the first to sixth grades to begin at 6:30 p.m.

A nursery for pre-school children will be furnished during all services, the host minister added.

Concert Sunday at Son-Life Fellowship

The Son-Life Fellowship, 1203 Vandalia St., Collinsville, announces that Janny Grimes will be in concert Sunday, Jan. 22, at 7 p.m., at the facility.

She is a psalmist who ministers at the piano as well as sings and has written "We Are More Than Conquerors" and "By His Word," according to a church spokesman.

Beginning Thursday, Jan. 26, and continuing through Sunday, Jan. 29, Andrew Womack will address the congregation and guests on the subject of "Grace of God." Session will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.

The guest speaker was baptized in 1971, and now has an international teaching ministry and presently is heard over 70 radio stations.

The public is invited to attend the meetings, the spokesman added.

Cookbook for good health offered by medical center

The Intermediate Coronary Care Unit (ICCU) of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City has published the "Hearty, Healthy Cookbook" which will be of use to those individuals on low cholesterol and low fat diets, according to Val Buder, assistant ICCU supervisor.

"Area residents submitted their favorite recipes to the cookbook, which were reviewed by the SEMC Dietary Department," said Mrs. Buder.

"Some of the ingredients were then substituted for those low in saturated fats and cholesterol."

The cookbooks are available for a $3 donation by calling Van Buder at 786-3456 or Vicki Young at 786-3301.

"This cookbook is not only helpful to those people on a restricted diet," said Mrs. Buder, "but it is also a means of fixing healthier meals for everyone in the family."

Sanctity of life prayer gathering here on Monday

In support of the National Sanctity of Life Sunday observance in Washington, D.C., Jan. 22-23, the Granite City Chapter of Concerned Women for America will gather at noon Monday in the vicinity of the Hope Church.

Mrs. Mary Lee, chapter leader, said the activity here will be limited to prayer and the presence of a group to walk in the area. The walk will show continuing local interest in pro-life issues, she added.

For the Washington rally, busloads of people will make the trip from many communities across the nation. The occasion is the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling permitting abortions.

The Concerned Women's public meeting in mid-January at the Granite City Army Installation was addressed by Bill McKenzie and Mrs. Judy Cassilly, board members of Missouri Citizens for Life. Their talks on "Does abortion make you angry?" were followed by a film and distribution of literature.

The Concerned Women noted that statistics no longer are being recorded by the state government, making it difficult to determine the number of abortions being performed in Illinois. The last available records are for 1981, it was stated.

The new arrival has three great-grandmothers. They are Mrs. Grace Smith of Granite City, Mrs. Vera Schilling of Jonesburg, Mo., and Martha Hayden of Cahokia.

Eagles Auxiliary hold memorial ceremonies

At the regular meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary, presided over by the president, Gladys Freeman, the draping of the charter was held in memory of deceased member, Bernice Johannmeier. The draping ceremony was performed by Gladys Freeman, Angie Buehler, junior past president, Carol Hill, vice president, Vincene Zerlan, chaplain, and Ann Konopka, conductor.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Konopka, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Zerlan.

The minutes of the previous minutes were read by Helen Frazier, secretary. Cards were read from the families of Herman Dellaloye and Bernice Johannmeier thanking the auxiliary for the kind expressions of sympathy and flowers. A letter was received from the Grand Aerie POC Membership Director with congratulations for acquiring a "no goose egg" for the months of October and November, with a replica of a "light bulb" to light up the auxiliary poster.

Applications of three new candidates were approved and balloted on, with group initiation to be held at the Jan. 24th meeting.

Navy Mothers seeking new members

Quad-City Navy Mothers 850 has announced a membership campaign to recruit new participants. The group is open to any area woman who has a son currently serving in the armed forces or who had a son serving in the past.

The group will meet next on Jan. 26 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, 204 Washington Ave.

Commander Nina Molsinger presided at the recent meeting of the group. Twelve members attended. Six were absent due to illness.

The group voted to donate $25 to the families of prisoners-of-war or missing-in-action.

Notes of appreciation were received from seven mothers whose sons received Christmas presents from the organization.

The chapter was draped in memory of member Lois Johannmeier.

Stella Miller won the mystery prize and the traveling basket project. Jean Teller won the consolation prize.

At the 24th meeting, Visiting chairman, Mrs. Konopka, reported sending get well cards to members Francis Steinman, Annie Reed, Sylvia Simurda and Helen Ostrie.

Mrs. Buehler reported that the fund-raiser for the Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus centerpieces, and the Christmas tree skirt was a great success and thanked everyone for their efforts. Proceeds are to go into the Social Fund, she added. Mrs. Zerlan said that the "no bake sale" of which she was chairman was also a success and asked all members to turn in their contributions by the end of February, as the proceeds are to go to the State Cancer Fund.

The president announced that the Aerie will have an officers breakfast on Jan. 22nd, at 9 a.m. at the Eagles Home, and that the auxiliary will host the State Officers Day and District meeting on March 24th.

Attendance prizes were won by Georgia Frazier and Mary Earis. A buffet luncheon was held after the meeting, with Ginger Skaggs and Mary Earis serving as hostesses, and games were also played.

GCC offers basic adult education in 12 week program

A new program which features basic education for adults will start Monday at Granite City Center (GCC). The program is a joint venture between GCC, Lewis and Clark Community College and the Madison County Employment Training Department.

According to David Stocklin, coordinator of training for the county, the 12-week program will use microcomputers for learning tools. "The type of computers we will be using really fits into the program well because they are mobile," he said. "We will be using the computers at GCC for 12 weeks and, after that, we will be transporting them to Lewis and Clark College and so on."

STOCKLIN SAID that, although this is the first such program at GCC, the program was started when the Jobs Training Partnership Act was passed in October 1983. The program uses federal monies but is administered by the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. Madison County administers the program locally.

"This program deals with raising the basic education skills of adults, such as math, reading and writing," said Stocklin. "Some of these students have their GED (General Equivalency Diploma) and some do not—a GED is not a prerequisite. We hope this class will allow the student to get the basic skills necessary so they can better learn a skill and, thus, get employment."

Stocklin said the program will be divided into two four-hour sessions—one in the mornings and the other in the evenings. The course will meet five days a week.

MADISON COUNTY pays the cost of all books, tuition and fees. Stocklin said that if a student is eligible, he or she also may receive a small needs-based payment that could be used for school-related costs, such as transportation.

Besides being free of charge, Stocklin said the main advantage of the program is that it is based on the Plato education philosophy, "to start at their own individual level and work at their own pace," he said. "This program of learning is used universally."

GC student wins basketball free-throwing competition

Mary McIlvoy, a sophomore computer science major at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), was named the female free-throwing basketball champion of the university at a competition sponsored by Campus Recreation.

Miss McIlvoy, although the winner of the competition, was probably the most reluctant contestant there. According to Miss McIlvoy, she was wearing a sweater and dress pants and really didn't want to compete. "I came to school to look nice, not to play basketball—I really wasn't dressed for it."

BUT THE sophomore's cousin, Rich Takmajian, who works for Campus Recreation, convinced her to compete in the event. "He told me that the most baskets anyone had made so far was 16, so I thought I'd give it a try," Miss McIlvoy said. "I really wasn't too confident that I'd win because I hadn't played organized basketball since I went to Grigsby (junior high school) and I don't even own a basketball. While I was shooting, I was nervous because it was so noisy in there (the University Center). But about half-way through my shooting, everyone started to get quiet and pay attention to me."

Miss McIlvoy placed way ahead of the crowd, making 20 baskets out of 25 attempts. Coincidentally, this is the same score she had when she competed in the Elk's Club Hoop Shoot Contest while she was in junior high school. She only placed second in that competition though.

"AFTER I finished shooting and they told me what my score was, I was really hoping it would hold, but I wouldn't have been that upset if it wouldn't have, because I was just doing it for fun."

Miss McIlvoy's score did hold up throughout the three-day free-throw tournament and she was awarded a T-shirt from Campus Recreation.

SIUE to host career information day, communication workshop

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a career information day Jan. 21. A media workshop is also scheduled that day at the university. Sponsored by the Office of Career Planning Placement and the student chapter of the American Society of Personnel Administration, the career information activities are scheduled in Goshen Lounge in the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. The activities are free, and the public is encouraged to attend.

Approximately 30 to 40 local, regional, and national businesses and industries will be represented, in such areas as accounting, aerospace, brokerage, cartography, communications, insurance, marketing, state government, retailing, and hotel management, as well as other career fields.

"THESE PEOPLE" will be available to offer career advice to students and answer questions concerning job opportunities," Max Hansel, coordinator of Career Planning and Placement at the university, said.

During the afternoon, the Student Program Board will sponsor a workshop for community, hospital, church, school, and business groups who want to learn how they can more effectively promote their activities.

The workshop is scheduled in the Cahokia/Wabash Rooms of the University Center, beginning at 1:30 p.m. The workshop is free, and the public is also encouraged to attend. SPEAKERS WILL include: Sam Smith, director of University News Service at SIUE; Tommy Walter, public information specialist and Charles Cox, university photographer.

The workshop will explore the importance of an organization's image, techniques for assessing and changing its image, and ways to evaluate the changes.

Topics to be discussed during the workshop include: establishing goals and objectives, selecting worthwhile projects for the group/organization to pursue, implementing the plans and motivating members to do the best possible job for the organization.

ALSO TO BE considered are techniques for preparing newspaper features, articles and public service announcements, the use of photography in public relations and holding news conferences.

Additional information concerning Career Information Day may be obtained by contacting Max Hansel in the Office of Career Planning. Placement by calling 1-692-3708. Interested persons may call Tommy Walter at University News Service, 1-692-3600, for information concerning the media workshop.

FOR EDDIE Gerdes, from Annie. Someone who is far away, with me all the time, who'd just begun to learn and grow, illness claimed his life. I claim, he played a brother, though more important yet, he newly won the husband role to a beautiful person he built me. Annie, he leaves this earth so young, with unanswered questions of why? I must remember, as I journey through life, we shall some day meet again. Eddie, you and I. 26 119

PRAYER to application. To the Holy Spirit, who you light all roads so that I can obtain my goal, you who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me, and that in all instances of my life you are with me, I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say this prayer for three consecutive days. After these days favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted. Only your initials should appear at the bottom. LKW. 26 1 19

O, HOLY St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, true relative of Jesus Christ and faithful intercessor of all who invoke your aid in time of need to you. I humbly beg to whom God has given such powers to come to my assistance in this present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause your name to be invoked. Charge woman, 31, in felony warrant Beverly English, 31, of 4734 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, was charged with felony retail theft (second subsequent) in an informational document issued Monday through the Madison County state's attorney's office. She also was booked for alleged battery.

The charges resulted from a weekend incident at Central Hardware, 1 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, where a security officer confronted an woman suspected of shoplifting and a struggle ensued, during which the officer was struck.

The suspect then broke away, fleeing across the parking area and was pursued on foot by the security officer, who alleged the woman got into a waiting car in the 3700 block of Nameek Road.

A description of the woman was issued and police searched the area for the vehicle, which was not located.

However, a purse reportedly belonging to the suspect was turned over to police. A cutting chain for a chainsaw, valued at $25, a ring worth $22 and a deadbolt lock costing $32 also were retrieved.

About five hours later, Miss English was brought to Granite City police headquarters by a Pontoon Beach officer. Initially, she was booked for investigation of felony theft prior to the information being issued.

The first two named were rehired from the list of honorary dismissed faculty members. Julie Patton is a former Granite City teacher.

The hiring decisions follow the granting of two leaves of absence at the high school, and an increase in the number enrolled for EMH instruction.

Yearly pay increments not authorized earlier due to oversight were approved. Those affected and their yearly increases are two executive secretaries, Lucille A. Caban, $659, and Mary N. Hudson, $649, and Terry M. Saleem, personnel administrator, $1,435.

Approval was given for three handicapped pupils to attend classes at the Alton Catholic Children's Home. Dolores M. Eubanks, a GCHS English teacher, was given an illness leave of absence from March 6 to June 1.

James M. Aye, who teaches Spanish and history at GCHS, was placed on an illness leave of absence from April 5 to June 1.

Gene Baker, GCHS soccer coach, will attend a National Federation Rules Meeting on soccer Jan. 24-26 in Kansas City, Mo. He serves on the national committee. The group will pay his expenses and the school district will hire a substitute teacher for two days at $41.80 a day.

"Bobby is coming home in April and we are planning a big family reunion in Florida at Easter," Mrs. Scarsdale said. A sister of the serviceman now lives in Florida, she noted.

The Orion's 40th birthday celebration was staged at the same time the U. S. Navy was marking its 200th birthday with a series of gala events.

Stolen vehicle recovered, youths taken into custody

Pontoon Beach Police recovered an automobile in that village Tuesday evening which had been reported stolen two days earlier from Bland, Mo. Three youths in the car were taken into custody.

At 7:35 p.m. Pontoon Beach police noticed a 1981 Plymouth Horizon at the Stardust Skating Rink, 3967 Lake Drive, which matched the description of a vehicle which had been stolen from David W. Daniels of Bland.

Upon investigation, police discovered three occupants — a juvenile and two young adults — sitting in the vehicle.

In addition to the juvenile, from St. Louis, officers apprehended a 17-year-old from Bland, and a 19-year-old from Florissant, Mo., occupants of the car.

The juvenile was lodged in the Madison County Juvenile Detention home while the two adults were lodged in the Madison County Jail for authorities from Bland.

Also, the young man from Bland was charged by the Pontoon Beach Police with operating a vehicle without a valid driver's license. Bond was set at $102.

ARREST ON WARRANT

Donna L. Housand, 38, of 1211 Meridian St., was arrested there last week on a warrant alleging battery, related to a Jan. 5 incident. She was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

Venice sets 46th annual ball

The Venice Crippled Children's Organization will present its 46th annual Crippled Children's Ball at 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 28, at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall, 740 Broadway, Venice.

The event, sponsored each January by the Venice community service group, is open to the public. Joey James Orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Proceeds from the ball help to support work at the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children and similar institutions concerned with the welfare of children and young people.

Last year, a total of $9,000 was collected and distributed by the Venice organization.

Others benefiting from the event include Shriners' Burns Center, St. Louis Children's Hospital, March of Dimes Foundation, the Salk Institute and the Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped.

(OATH). Tickets to the ball, costing $2 each, may be obtained at the door the night of the dance or secured in advance from ticket co-chairmen Jack Tolliver and George Mangiaracino, or other members of the Venice organization.

Current officers of the Venice group are: Tom Fields, president and general chairman of the ball; Milton Morris, vice president; Roseann Koelker, secretary; and Valeta Bauder, treasurer.

To assist in the fundraising project, contributions also are being sought through canisters now displayed in many Venice business firms. Harold Koelker Jr. is in charge of the container distribution.

Dance music will be played from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Jan. 28 by the Joey James Orchestra, which has performed at the Hyatt-Regency O'Hare Hotel and the Sheraton Hotel in Chicago.

The band also appeared with entertainer Art Linkletter at the Sheraton Oakbrook Hotel, near Chicago.

In addition to numerous public engagements in the St. Louis area, the band also performs at private functions, including conventions, country clubs and the Missouri Athletic Club in St. Louis.

Orchestra leader Joey James is an accomplished musician on the accordion, corvadox and piano and also provides vocals. Performing with him are:

—Former Venice resident Gordon "Piccolo Pete" Routh, who plays saxophone and clarinet, as well as sings, and was formerly with the Joe Ladd and Walter Schlemmer orchestras.

—Ron Mitchell, whose background includes appearances with the Ron Mitchell Trio, Sal Denron Big Band and Ron Mitchell Orchestra, performs on the trumpet and sings.

—George Koprivica plays string bass and electric bass and previously was with the Joe Bozzi and Johnny Polzin orchestras; and Wayne Kopchak performs on drums.

In announcing plans for this year's ball, Fields invited all Quad-City area residents to attend the event and support the organization's philanthropic endeavors, which benefit many children.

DOC seeks gamebird bands

SPRINGFIELD—Illinois hunters who bag pheasant or quail that have been banded as part of the Conservation Department's cooperative quail and pheasant program are asked to return either the bands or the information on the bands to the Department of Conservation, according to Terry Musser, DOC wildlife biologist.

Bands or information should be sent to: Terry Musser, Department of Conservation, Division of Fish and Wildlife, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Birds banded and released by sportsmen's clubs participating in the cooperative program this year bear the abbreviation: "CC-83, RET. Dept. Cons. Spfld., Ill." (Return Department of Conservation, Springfield, Illinois). The band also bears a serial number.

If the hunter chooses to send only the information to the Department, they should include the serial number. Other important items include: name and address of the hunter who bagged the bird, date taken, and location (distance and direction from the nearest town).

Musser added the Department also is interested in obtaining the same information regarding banded birds that perished as road kills or by means other than hunting.

Groups may seek free trees for Arbor Day

The Illinois Department of Conservation is making up to 100,000 white pine seedlings available to elementary schools for special Arbor Day observances this spring, according to Al Mickelson, DCC state forester.

The plants, raised at the department's two state nurseries, will be sold at cost to state chartered organizations, such as Lions Clubs, 4-H clubs, Jaycees and other public service groups which will distribute the seedlings to elementary schools for educational Arbor Day activities.

The seedlings will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis, and must be used for educational programs involving school children from 6 to 13 years of age, Mickelson said. Tree orders should be placed by April 1 in order to ensure delivery in time for arbor day, April 27. Orders must be for a minimum of 250 trees and be accompanied by a letter explaining the sponsoring agency's program.

Order blanks and price lists are available from DCC Regional Offices, county agriculture and extension advisors, the Soil Conservation Service or Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, Mickelson said. Information also may be obtained by contacting the Department of Conservation, Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706, telephone 1-217-782-2361.
